Courses of Study.

Four courses of study are provided for the Normal Schools of the State of Pennsylvania, as follows: Elementary Course, Regular Normal Course, Scientific Course, Advanced Normal Course.

ELEMENTARY COURSE.

Preparatory Studies.

LANGUAGE.—Orthography, Reading.

NATURAL SCIENCE.—Physiology and Hygiene.

HISTORICAL SCIENCE.—Geography, Political and Physical; History of the United States.

THE ARTS.—Penmanship, sufficient to be able to explain some approved system; writing to be submitted to the Board of Examiners.

Other studies, as Arithmetic, English Grammar, Algebra, etc., shall be added to the Preparatory year, said studies to be selected by each Normal School, but the "final" examination in these added branches shall be deferred till the end of the Junior year.

Junior Year.

PEDAGOGICS.—School Management; Method of Teaching the Common Branches.

LANGUAGE.—English Grammar; Latin, sufficient for the introduction of Cæsar.

MATHEMATICS.—Arithmetic; Elementary Algebra.

NATURAL SCIENCE.—Botany.

HISTORICAL SCIENCE.—Civil Government.

THE ARTS.—Drawing, a daily exercise for at least twenty-four weeks, work to be submitted to the Board of Examiners; Book-keeping, single entry, including a knowledge of common business papers, and a daily exercise for at least seven weeks; Vocal Music, elementary principles, and attendance upon daily exercises for at least twelve weeks.

PHYSICAL CULTURE.

Senior Year.

PEDAGOGICS.—Psychology; Methods of Teaching the Common Branches; History of Education; Model School Work, at least twenty weeks of actual teaching daily during one period of not less than forty-five minutes; a Thesis on a professional subject.

LANGUAGE.—Rhetoric and Composition; English Literature, at least twelve weeks' work, including the thorough study of four English classics; Latin, Cæsar, through the Helvetian War.

MATHEMATICS.—Plane Geometry.

NATURAL SCIENCE.—Elementary Natural Philosophy.

HISTORICAL SCIENCE.—General History.

PHYSICAL CULTURE.

REGULAR NORMAL COURSE.

[Three Years.]

PEDAGOGICS.—Advanced Psychology; Moral Science; Philosophy of Education; Methods of Teaching; Practice of Teaching; Pedagogical Works; Fœbel, Education of Man; Quick, Educational Reformers; Fitch, Lectures on Teaching; School Supervision; School Apparatus; Discussion of Manual Training, Physical Culture, etc.

MATHEMATICS.—Solid Geometry; Plane and Analytical Trigonometry; Surveying.

LANGUAGE.—Latin, Cæsar, three books; Virgil's Æneid, three books; Cicero, three orations.

NATURAL SCIENCE.—Chemistry, including Chemistry of Soils; Zoology, including Entomology; and Geology.

LITERATURE.—Higher Literature, English and American, including a study of at least four classics.

SCIENTIFIC COURSE.

[Four Years.]

(This Course includes the studies of the Regular Normal Course and the following branches:)

PEDAGOGICS.—Logic; Course of Professional Reading, selected from regular or advanced Normal Course; a Thesis on a professional subject.

LANGUAGE.—Latin, three books of Virgil's Æneid, three orations of Cicero, or a full equivalent; (an equivalent of Greek, German or French will be accepted for any of the following studies: Virgil, Cicero, Higher Algebra, Spherical Trigonometry, Surveying, Analytical Geometry, Calculus, Mathematical Natural Philosophy and Mathematical Astronomy, and an equivalent in Latin and advanced work in Natural Science for any of the foregoing mathematical studies).

MATHEMATICS.—Higher Algebra; Spherical Trigonometry and Surveying, with use of instruments; Analytical Geometry; Differential and Integral Calculus.

NATURAL SCIENCE.—Higher Natural Philosophy; Astronomy, Descriptive and Mathematical.

HISTORICAL SCIENCE.—English History; Grecian History; Roman History.

ADVANCED NORMAL COURSE.

[Five Years.]

(This course includes the studies of the Scientific Course, and one year's additional work in Pedagogics, as follows: A full equivalent will be accepted for any of the text-books in the Course.)

PSYCHOLOGY.—James, Advanced Course.

Laurie's Institutes of Education; Rein's Outline of Pedagogy; Herbart's Science of Education; Spencer's Education; Rosmini's Method in Education; Davidson's Education of the Greek People.

Discussion of Methods and Objects of Leading Educators; Froebel, Pestalozzi, Dr. Arnold, Horace Mann and others.

Discussion of Educational Theories.

Education in the United States; Education in Pennsylvania (Wickersham); General Survey of History of Public Education in Germany, France and England.

Advanced work in Language, Mathematics, Natural Science, etc., may be taken at the option of the student.

COLLEGE PREPARATORY COURSE.

(These courses have been instituted by this school for the benefit of students who desire to pursue a course of study at the college or university, and they require from one to two years after completing the Elementary Course. Students who complete these courses are admitted without examination to Cornell University, Lafayette College, Bucknell University, and Pennsylvania State College.)

1. Preparatory to a Classical Course.

ENGLISH.—Spelling; Reading; English Grammar and Composition; Rhetoric.

HISTORY.—History of the United States; Outlines of Roman History; Outlines of Grecian History.

GEOGRAPHY.—Political and Physical Geography, complete; Ancient Geography.

PHYSIOLOGY.—Martin's Text Book complete, or the equivalent.

MATHEMATICS.—Arithmetic; Algebra through Quadratics; Plane Geometry.

LATIN.—Latin Grammar and Reader; Caesar's Commentaries, four books; Cicero's Orations, four against Cataline, and "Pro Archia;" Virgil's Æneid, six books; Latin Prose Composition.

GREEK.—Greek Grammar and Reader; Xenophon's Anabasis, four books; Homer's Iliad, three books; Greek Prose Composition.

11. Preparatory to a Latin Scientific Course.

This Course is the same as the Classical Course, except that for Greek, German and Elementary Physics are substituted.

111. Preparatory to a Technical Course.

HISTORY.—History of the United States; General History.

GEOGRAPHY.—Political and Physical Geography, complete.

PHYSIOLOGY.—Martin's Text Book, complete, or the equivalent.

MATHEMATICS.—Arithmetic; Algebra, complete; Plane and Solid Geometry; Plane and Spherical Trigonometry.

GERMAN.—German Grammar and Reader; William Tell; Marie Stuart.

COURSE IN ART.

Elementary and Freehand Drawing is taught as a regular branch in the Elementary Course.

Special Art Classes.

A special Course of Art has been arranged, requiring two years of systematic study, called the Junior and the Senior year in the Course of Art.

The following schedules exhibit these courses of study. An equivalent in some other branch of art work may be substituted for what is here laid down.

Junior Year.

The work in drawing of the Elementary Course or the equivalent; flowers, leaves or fruit from the cast or models in relief, in crayon, India ink or color; foliage, tree trunks, etc., from nature; oil paintings from the flat, not including figures; oil paintings from landscapes, flowers, still life, etc., from nature; charcoal drawings; crayon work; pastel studies; use and qualities of colors, technical terms, etc., on which an examination will be given each half-term.

Senior Year.

Fragments of the human figure, from the cast, in black and white; perspective; drawing from nature; history of art, theory of color, technical terms, etc., on which an examination will be given each half term; landscapes, still life, flowers and animals to be painted in oil from nature, also figures; decorative painting.

Students may enter at any time and take such branches of art as they may choose—crayon, oil, pastel, china painting, water color, or decorative painting. A class in out-door sketching will be formed in the fall and spring terms. Every student taking the Senior Course must present one essay of at least 500 words, on some subject relating to the fine arts. These will be retained by the school. Easels and numerous other conveniences are provided by the school. A large and varied assortment of studies is provided for the use of the students free.

During Commencement week, a public exhibition of the work of the students will be given, at which time the work of those taking the regular course will be examined.

COURSE IN MUSIC.

The elementary principles of Vocal Music are taught as one of the regular branches of the Elementary Course. Students who wish to take lessons in Instrumental or Vocal Music, or to take a complete and thorough course in any department of Musical Instruction, avail themselves of the excellent advantages offered by the Music Department.

The course of study affords the pupil every opportunity to fit himself, in the shortest possible time, for an active musical career. Weekly student recitals are given in which all students are required to participate.

These recitals give the pupil the self control which is absolutely necessary to every musician.

Performing from memory is one of the leading features of these weekly recitals, as in this way alone the pupil gains a repertory that is of practical service to him in after life.

The musical course not only fits the pupil to play and sing, but the excellent course in Musical History and Harmony enable him to become a broad, intellectual musician.

The courses in Pianoforte, Organ, Violin, and Voice, are divided into five grades. The first and second are elementary and devoted to the rudiments of music and technical exercises. The third and intermediate grade, for the further development of musical knowledge and technic. The fourth or advanced grade, for a higher degree of intelligence, technic, and interpretation, and the fifth grade, for general musical knowledge necessary for a public performer or a good teacher.

The study of other instruments requires the same general course on a less expanded basis. Students in the fourth and fifth grades are required to give at least three or four satisfactory performances of different works in concerts or public recitals.

MODEL SCHOOL COURSE.

READING.—Two periods a day the first and second years. One period a day from the second to the eleventh year.

WRITING.—Two periods a day the first year and one period a day thereafter. After the fourth year two terms each year. Special attention is given to this subject in all written work.

SPELLING.—The first year with reading. After the first year as a separate branch one period a day. Exercises in spelling are given in connection with all subjects, particularly reading. Poor spelling in any written work is noted.

ENGLISH GRAMMAR.—Language Lessons and Composition, oral and written, one period a day to the eighth year. After that the subject is regularly and technically taught from a book to the eleventh year including two terms of this year.

ARITHMETIC.—Oral and written are combined the first four years. From the fourth year as separate subjects. Oral, three periods a week to the tenth year; written, one period a day to the eleventh year including two terms of this year.

GEOGRAPHY.—First two years preparatory work. After the second year one period a day to the tenth year including two terms of this year.

NATURAL SCIENCE.—Observation Lessons—one period a day first and second years, two periods a week from the second to the tenth year. Hygiene—one period a day one term each year to the eleventh year. Botany—one term of the eleventh year, one period a day.

U. S. HISTORY.—One period a day the second half of the eighth year and the whole of the tenth year.

ALGEBRA.—The first half of the ninth year and the whole of the eleventh year, one period a day.

DRAWING.—The first year with other subjects only; three lessons a week to the fifth year, after that four lessons a week one term each year to the tenth year. It is also taught with other subjects during the whole course.

VOCAL MUSIC.—Sixty minutes a week each year.

PHYSICAL CULTURE.—Sixty minutes a week each year.

LITERATURE.—With Reading and Language to the eleventh year.

UNITED STATES CONSTITUTION.—One term of the eleventh year, one period a day.

LATIN.—Two terms of the eleventh year, one period a day.

GENERAL HISTORY.—Thirty minutes a week to the tenth year.

BOOK-KEEPING.—One term of the eleventh year.

Final Examinations and Diplomas.

1. Admission to the Senior and Junior classes shall be determined by the State Board of Examiners at the annual examination by the Board.

2. In order to be admitted to the Junior class at any State Normal School, persons must be examined in the six Preparatory branches named and no others; and the examinations in these branches shall be final. Those who for any reason were unable to complete the Preparatory examination, may be admitted to both the Preparatory and the Junior examinations at the end of the Junior year. But they must be classed as Preparatory students till the final examination in the Preparatory branches has been completed. No substitutions or conditions shall be allowed for any of the studies required for admission to the Junior class.

3. In order to be admitted to the Senior class, persons must be examined in all the Junior studies, except Methods, and the examination in these branches shall be final. No substitutions or conditions shall be allowed for any of the studies required for admission to the Senior class.

4. If the faculty of any State Normal School, or the State Board of Examiners, decide that a person is not prepared to pass an examination by the State Board, he shall not be admitted to the same examination at any other State Normal School during the same school year.

5. If a person who has completed the Preparatory or the Junior studies at any State Normal School desires to enter another State Normal School, the Principal of the School at which the examination was held shall send the proper certificate to the Principal of the School which the person desires to attend. Except for the reason here stated, no certificate setting forth the fact of the passing of the Preparatory or the Junior studies shall be issued.

6. Candidates for graduation shall be examined in all the branches of the Senior year. They shall have the opportunity of being examined in any of the higher branches, including vocal and instrumental music and double entry book-keeping; and all studies completed by them shall be named in their certificate.

7. Persons who have been graduated in any course may be examined at any State examination in any branches of a higher course, and the Secretary of the Board of Examiners shall certify, on the back of their diplomas, to the passing of the branches completed at said examination.

8. A certificate setting forth the proficiency of all the applicants in all the studies in which they desire to be examined by the State Board of Examiners, shall be prepared and signed by the faculty and presented to the Board.

Rules Relating to Certificates and Degrees.

1. Students who have completed any one of the foregoing courses shall receive a certificate or diploma authorizing them to teach in the public schools of the State two years without examination.

2. Persons who have completed any one of the foregoing courses and have taught two full annual school terms since graduation, shall receive a certificate or diploma, authorizing them to teach in the public schools of Pennsylvania without further examination, provided that they present to the faculty and Board of Examiners a certificate of good moral character and skill in the Art of Teaching from the Board, or Boards of Directors, by whom they were employed, countersigned by the proper Superintendent.

3. Degrees shall be conferred as follows:

To graduates in the Regular Normal Course, the degree of Bachelor of Elementary Pedagogics (B. E. P.); after two years' successful teaching, the degree of Master of Elementary Pedagogics (M. E. P.)

To graduates in the Scientific Course, the degree of Bachelor of Science (B. S.); after two years' successful teaching, the degree of Master of Elementary Pedagogics (M. E. P.) Graduates of the Scientific Course who have engaged in scientific, literary or professional pursuits, at least three years after graduation, may receive the degree of Master of Science (M. S.)

To graduates in the Advanced Normal Course, the degree of Bachelor of Pedagogics (B. P.); after two years' successful teaching after completing this Course or in the Scientific Course, the degree of Master of Pedagogics (M. P.)

Departments of Instruction.

The aim of the Normal School is to furnish competent teachers for the public schools of the State. The mental equipment of a teacher consists of (1) knowledge of the subject matter to be taught, (2) knowledge of the laws of mental action, and (3) knowledge of those methods of imparting instruction and of moving the will which are in most complete harmony with the laws of mental action; this last knowledge may be either theoretical or practical. With the successful teacher it is both.

In this school the student receives his knowledge of subject matter in his daily study and recitations; he acquires an elementary knowledge of the laws of mental action by the study of Psychology. In order to supply him with a theoretical knowledge of the best methods of imparting instruction and of moving the will, we give regular instruction in Methods and School Economy, and History of Education. Finally, to furnish him as far as possible, with the needed practical skill, we introduce the Senior to the work of actual teaching in the Model School.

DEPARTMENT OF PEDAGOGY.

Psychology.

Five recitation periods, weekly, of forty-five minutes each, during the fall term (14 weeks), are required of the Senior class for Psychology.

The aim is to present the fundamental principles of the science in a manner so simple that the student can understand them, and in so practical a light that he may see their application in methods.

The work consists of lectures on the nervous system and special senses; the study of the intellect, the sensibilities, and the will, with their relation to each other; the analysis of the intellect, observing the natural order of development; the special study of the intellectual faculties, with their relation to the sensibilities and the will; instinct, reflex action and habit.

History of Education.

Three recitation periods, weekly, of forty-five minutes each, during the spring term (14 weeks) are required of the Senior class for the History of Education.

The aim is to acquaint the student with the origin and development of the theories and methods which he has adopted, to awaken in him an interest in the personal history and character of the great educators of the past, and, in general, to give him more intelligence and a deeper interest in matters pertaining to his profession.

The work consists of a study of selections from Compayre's History of Pedagogy and lectures on the History of Education in America.

Logic.

Two recitation periods, weekly, of forty-five minutes each, for one-half term (7 weeks), are required of the Post Graduate classes for Logic.

The aim is to acquaint the student with the exact use of terms, the classification of propositions, the rules of the syllogism and the different kinds of reasoning.

Moral Science.

Two recitation periods, weekly, of forty-five minutes each, for one term (14 weeks), are required of the Post Graduate classes for Moral Science.

The aim is to study some of the most prominent theories of different philosophers in regard to the Standard of Ethics, the Psychological basis of these theories, and to consider a rational system of practical Ethics. Instruction is given by lectures.

S. H. ALBRO, Instructor.

Model School.

The Model School comprises the public school of the town. It is divided into eleven grades, and embraces Primary, Intermediate, Grammar and Academic studies.

The design of the school is to give our students an opportunity to put into practice the theory and methods of instruction received in the course of professional work.

Forty-two weeks or more of practice work is required of each Senior, who does his work under the constant direction of the critic teachers of this department. A single term of this practice will do more for a student-teacher than years of school-room work without advice or criticism.

Once each week the student teachers meet with the critic teachers to hear criticism on their work. Individual criticisms are made and suggestions offered as needed.

Each student-teacher is also appointed critic for a definite period of time. A written report of his observations is then handed to the critic teachers for inspection, and whatever is particularly worthy of note, or subject to criticism, is afterward discussed before the class.

The methods, the language, power of securing and holding attention, discipline, manner, and teaching power, are noted and errors criticised.

Earnest effort is made to impress the fact that a poor disciplinarian cannot succeed in the school-room, and every principle relating to discipline is seriously and carefully discussed. During the year there are Senior class exhibitions of teaching, after which each student has an opportunity to make criticisms or ask advice.

Methods.

Two recitations periods, weekly, of forty-five minutes each, during the year, are required of the Senior class for methods.

The aim is to discuss the best methods of teaching each of the branches taught in common schools, and to discover the psychological basis of the methods recommended. This course in Methods is designed to be the study of applied Psychology, and, at the same time, a preparation for the duties of the school-room.

Three recitation periods, weekly, of forty-five minutes each, during the whole year, are required of the Junior class for Methods and School Economy.

The aim is to furnish students who may teach school before entering the Senior class with such an empirical knowledge of Methods, and such practical hints in regard to the management of a school, as he is most in need of as a preparation for his work.

W. R. LONGSTREET, Principal of Model School.

DEPARTMENT OF LANGUAGE.

Reading.

This department aims to give the student a thorough knowledge of the dictionary and its many uses, including correct pronunciation, and the diacritical marking of words; to enable him to read understandingly, intelligently and with ease, and to teach reading by the best methods.

The books now in use are Harper's Fifth and Sixth Readers, and McGuffey's Fifth Revised.

The plan pursued is to drill upon special selections, requiring students to give them before the class. Students are also required to prepare articles of their own selection, and to present them before the class for criticism.

The powers of imagination and description are encouraged and cultivated by the reproduction in writing of articles read or heard, and by the description of mental pictures produced by reading.

English Grammar.

For the Junior work in Grammar, two classes are formed requiring one and two terms respectively to complete the subject.

A Preparatory class is organized for students that are not prepared to enter upon the Junior work in this subject.

In both Junior and Preparatory classes, one recitation weekly is devoted to the study of letter writing and to practical composition work generally and toward the close of the term the student is required to hand in a satisfactory essay upon a subject assigned by the teacher.

Grammar may be defined as the science of language and the art of expression. It is the aim of this department that neither branch of the subject shall be neglected. All will agree that this study should be made practical, and that ability to speak and write correctly should be the end chiefly sought. Of scarcely less importance, however, is the study considered as a science, inasmuch as practical grammar, or language lessons, rests on the principles of grammar. Besides, as a means of mental discipline, few subjects are so valuable as technical grammar.

Especial attention is given to the following topics: Declensions, principal parts of verbs, forms of conjugation, analysis and the correct use of words in sentences.

H. J. VAN NORMAN, Instructor.

Rhetoric.

Five recitation periods, weekly, of forty-five minutes each, during one term, are required of the Senior class for Rhetoric.

The subject is taught with a view to its practical use. It was taken up in the following manner: First, Punctuation, at the end of which the student is supposed to be familiar with the important principles. Second, Diction, under which sentences illustrating the right use of words are considered, together with synonyms. Third, the different kinds of sentences, together with their appropriateness for the expression of different kinds of thought. Fourth, rules for the construction of sentences in regard to clearness, emphasis, unity, strength, harmony. Fifth, Figures. Sixth, some of the special properties of style. Seventh, Versification. Eighth, Poetry. After the principles involved in the various styles of composition, essays are required, descriptive, narrative, expository or argumentative in character.

English Literature.

Five recitation periods, weekly, of forty-five minutes each, during one term, are required of the Senior class for English Literature.

This subject is taught with a view to giving the student a due appreciation of the best in the history of the language. In the limited period of fourteen weeks only the most important authors of the different epochs are considered; but around these, as far as possible, are grouped the minor writers. The subject is begun with the development of the language from the Anglo-Saxon. The life of an author is studied with the purpose of causing the student to know the man, and, through him, his style. In order to become familiar with his style, extracts from different productions are read. Some attention is given to the political condition of the times, the general condition of the country, and to the leading events of English history. A proportionate amount of time is given to American authors.

ANNIE CAMERON ROBERTSON, Instructor.

Latin.

Elementary Course—Junior Year.

Five recitation periods, of forty-five minutes each, weekly, during two terms, required of Juniors. Outline of work;

Roman method of pronunciation; declension of nouns, pronouns, adjectives, participles; comparison of adjectives and participles; conjugation of regular verbs and of sum, principal rules of syntax of nouns, pronouns and adjectives.

Elementary Course—Senior Year.

Five recitation periods, of forty-five minutes each, weekly, during the year, required of Seniors. Outline of work:

B. Translation of the "Helvetian War" (Commentaries, Book 1, chapters 1-29); Syntax of nouns, pronouns, and adjectives completed; uses of the indicative, imperative, infinitive, and subjunctive modes; conjugation of irregular verbs; English derivatives; the life and times of Cæsar; the Roman legion; geography of Gaul.

A. Honor Section: Students, who have passed (b) in the fall term with distinction and show marked ability in Latin, will be elected members of the Honor Section. The aim will be to read more Latin, and to give the students the power to read intelligently without translating. Translation at sight and hearing will be emphasized. The extra work done will count in the College Preparatory Course.

German.

First Year—Whitney's German Grammar and Reader.

Second Year—Schiller's "Wilhelm Tell;" Goethe's "Hermann and Dorothea."

IRENE CAMPBELL NEWHOUSE, Instructor.

Post Graduate Course.

CÆSAR'S COMMENTARIES:—Four Books. Life and character of Cæsar; the Roman art of war; outline map of Gaul, locating the principal tribes and battle grounds; a careful study of grammatical principles illustrated in the text; drill in sequence of tenses, indirect discourse, formation and derivation of Latin words. Translation at sight and hearing.

CICERO'S ORATIONS:—Four against Cataline, and that for the poet Archias; the life and times of Cicero; topography of Rome; occasion and object of each oration; study of Latin synonyms.

VIRGIL'S ÆNEID:—Six Books. Virgil's life and position as a poet, epic poetry; poetic construction; figures of speech; prosody; careful study of all mythological and historical references; outline map, showing position and name of the various points visited by Æneas, famous quotations and proverbs from Virgil.

LATIN COMPOSITION:—Bennett's Latin Composition, complete.

Greek.

GRAMMAR.—Laws of quantity and accent, rules for euphony, regular declension of nouns, adjectives, participles and pronouns, formation and composition of adverbs, regular comparison of adjectives, irregular comparison, formation of verb stems, regular conjugation, contract verbs, more common mi verbs, thorough drill on the principal parts of irregular verbs, syntax of substantive, adjective and verb forms, the use of the subjunctive and optative modes.

ANABASIS.—Four books. Life of Xenophon, history of the period, Greek art of war, geography of the route of the "ten thousand," drill in etymology and syntax.

ILIAD.—Three books. Homer, the story of the Iliad, Homeric forms and syntax, rules of prosody, hexameter verse, mythology, figures of speech, comparison of Attic and Homeric forms.

GREEK COMPOSITION.—Jones's Exercises in Greek Prose.

Jones's Exercises in Greek Composition, complete; translating English into Greek, illustrating regular constructions and idioms; sentences to be corrected and copied into a composition book.

G. CLAYTON ROBERTSON, Instructor.

DEPARTMENT OF MATHEMATICS.Arithmetic.

In Arithmetic three classes are formed, requiring one, two and three terms, respectively, to complete the subject. Two recitations a week, or their equivalence, will be devoted to the subject of mental arithmetic.

The most advanced class begins at Ratio, the second class at Percentage, and the third class at Fractions.

Special attention is given to some parts of the Arithmetic; for example, Fractions, Denominate Numbers, Measurements, Longitude and Time, Pure Percentage and its various application of Profit and Loss, Commission, Interest, Discount and Taxes. On the other hand there are some parts of the arithmetic, which are seldom or never used after leaving school; as Equation of Payments, Averaging Accounts, Savings Banks Accounts, Alligation, Annuities, Partial Payments, Circulating Decimals, and Arbitration of Exchange, which are omitted altogether.

In recitation each topic under discussion is developed by a direct appeal to the reason without reference to any formal rule, while the rule is made use of only as a general deduction drawn from the solution of concrete examples.

H. J. VAN NORMAN, Instructor.

Algebra.

The Junior Course requires Elementary Algebra complete. All principles are demonstrated and thoroughly discussed. Special attention is given to the following subjects: Factoring, Newton's Binomial Theorem, Square and Cube Root, the Solution of Quadratic Equations, and Proportion.

Higher Algebra.

Daily recitations for two terms of fourteen weeks each are required to complete this subject.

Plane Geometry.

Plane Geometry is a Senior study, and two terms of fourteen weeks each are required to complete it. The classes have a recitation period of forty-five minutes each, daily. Special attention is given to the demonstration of original propositions, and the solution of problems.

Solid Geometry.

Plane Trigonometry and Surveying.

Many practical problems involving trigonometrical functions are solved. Demonstrations of the Formulæ are required. The classes are given drill in the applications of Plane Trigonometry to Surveying. The transit and other necessary instruments are explained. Surveys are mapped and areas computed.

J. P. BREIDINGER, Instructor.

DEPARTMENT OF PHYSICAL SCIENCE.

The course of study in Physical Science has for its aim:

1st. To lead the student to acquire the power and habit of accurate observation of the facts of nature, and the ability to draw from these facts legitimate inferences as to their causes and relations.

2d. To afford training in the expression, oral and written, of the student's conclusions in clear and forcible language.

3d. To relate everything, as far as possible, to the student's former and present experience.

4th. To make the work as elementary as may be, with a view to the student's use of it in teaching.

The subjects constituting the course are as follows:

Preparatory Course.

Physiology—One term.

Geography (Descriptive and Physical)—Two terms.

Elementary Course.

Physics—Two terms.

Botany—One term.

Post Graduate Course.

Chemistry—One term.

Geology—One half term.

Astronomy—One term.

Zoology—One half term.

The Junior class receives as a part of the course in methods a course of about twelve lessons in Natural History with special reference to classifying the objects with which they may be familiar in the animal, plant and mineral kingdom.

Geography—Descriptive and Physical.

The particular aim in view in the study of Descriptive Geography, is to fix in the mind such knowledge as the student may already have, and as far as possible, relate such knowledge to his every-day experiences.

The topical method is used in teaching, and the following summary of topics may indicate the ground covered.

1. The form, size, and motions of the earth.
2. Directions, positions, and measurements.
3. Land masses, continental and insular, with their groupings.
4. Oceanic and inland waters.
5. Political Divisions—comparison with United States.
6. Routes of commerce, communication and travel.
7. A more thorough and complete study is made of the United States and Pennsylvania,

Physical geography is restricted to the physical features of the earth, and the animals and plants which live upon its surface.

ELIZA J. BOYCE, Instructor.

Physiology and Hygiene.

A finely mounted skeleton, complete, and a valuable manikin from the best French manufactory, have recently been furnished to the school. A complete outline of the work required in this department may be obtained on application to the Principal. This includes the study of Bones, Articulation, Muscles, the Vascular, Respiratory, Digestive and Nervous Systems, Elimination, Animal Heat and the Special Senses. In consideration of each of these subjects, special attention is given to the Hygiene of the body.

Special Physiology is given Seniors in Physical Training Department.

Physics.

The students of the Senior class study Physics during the fall and winter terms. The course consists of a series of experiments from Gage's Introduction to Physical Science, selected with reference to ease of comprehension, and to illustrating the main principles and practical applications of the science.

These experiments are performed by the teachers, questions asked which lead the student to observe closely the conditions and results, and he is expected to draw his own inferences and state them in his own language. The student is expected to be familiar with the text, and questions and problems are given to test his knowledge. Each student then writes in his note book a description of the experiments, illustrating each by a drawing.

The work of Physics in the Post Graduate course is along the same line but more extended, and the students perform a series of experiments.

Botany.

Botany is studied by the Junior class during the spring term, about half of the time being devoted to the study of the text book and the remainder to the practical work of describing, analyzing, and preparing specimens for a herbarium. The student is instructed to plant a window garden with several kinds of seeds and study their mode of germination and growth, making in his note book a record of his observations.

Each student prepares a herbarium of at least twenty-five specimens of plants mounted on card board, together with mounted specimens of leaves and stems, illustrating all of the forms of simple and compound leaves and the different kinds of phyllotaxy, in this way he gets an accurate and adequate acquaintance with the plants of the region and a working knowledge of plants in general.

Zoology.

The Scientific class study Zoology one half term. The method is, as far as possible, from practical observation. Specimens illustrating the different classes of animals are dissected by the student, their structure examined, and descriptions and drawings made in note books.

The classification and characteristics of the animals are studied and lists made by the student of all the animals with which he is familiar, putting each in its proper place in the classification.

Morphology and the development from the egg are studied in the living specimens, together with the different tissues which go to make up the animal structure.

The doctrine of evolution and the criteria by which we judge the animal's rank are studied; the theory of instinct; the voluntary and the automatic movements; the organs with their functions, adaptations, correlations and analogies.

Geology.

The students of the Scientific course give one half term to the study of Geology.

For this study the school is especially well equipped. Our cabinet contains one of the finest collections arranged to illustrate Lithology and Historical Geology. Besides the study of this the students make frequent excursions in the surrounding region to examine the structure and arrangement of the rocks and to collect specimens for their own cabinets. These they study, classify, label and arrange in a space set aside for them, thereby acquiring the ability to recognize the kinds of rocks when they come under their observation, and forming a nucleus for a more extensive collection.

The effect of frost in aiding to disintegrate the rock, and of rivers in eroding their banks and depositing detritus and silt, are well illustrated by the rocks and streams in this section, which are visited, examined and discussed by the students.

Chemistry.

One term is spent by students of the Scientific and Post Graduate courses in the study of Chemistry, the first half being devoted to chemical theory and the more common elements with their properties, and symbols, and the equations representing their reactions. A sufficient number of selected experiments are performed by the teacher to illustrate the text. The latter half of the term is spent in individual work. The student performs a list of experiments recommended by the Committee of Ten for secondary schools, and writes a description of these, together with the equations representing the chemical reactions, in his note books.

Frequent quizzes and examinations are held to test his ability and accuracy.

Astronomy.

One term is spent by students of the Scientific and Post Graduate courses in the study of Astronomy.

The student is expected to acquire a correct notion as to the simpler methods and results of astronomical research. He acquaints himself with the facts as given in the text book and verifies them as far as possible, observing the heavens, noting the positions and movements of the planets, and brighter stars, and tracing the principal constellations. The uses of the telescope and spectroscope are explained and illustrated.

The more important statistics are learned, the theories to account for the origin and structure of the universe, and the laws of planetary and cometary motions.

I. M. GAYMAN, Instructor.

DEPARTMENT OF HISTORY AND CIVIL GOVERNMENT.

American History, Including Civil Government.

Five recitation periods, weekly, of forty-five minutes each, for twenty-one weeks, is required of the Junior class in American History, and seven weeks in Civics.

The chief object before the teacher is to create in the student a desire for the study of history. The attempt is made through the narration of comparative accounts of different authors, debate, map-drawing, relics, short sketches, etc. Causes and effects are considered. The study of biography is made prominent. Some attention is given to the related events of English History. The subject is taken up in the following natural order: Explorations, colonizations, inter-colonial wars, the revolution, Presidential administrations, civil war, events of later history.

Civil Government.

Five recitation periods, weekly, of forty-five minutes each, for half term (7 weeks), are required of the Preparatory class for Civics. The subject is taken up as a supplement to History of the United States.

The course attempts a thorough analysis of the Constitution of the United States, a comparison between the National government and the government of the states, and of foreign countries, and a discussion of the principles of government, and of the reason for the provisions of the constitution, and of the current events relating to Civics.

General History.

Five recitation periods, weekly, of forty-five minutes each, during a half-year (21 weeks), are required of the Scientific and Post Graduate classes for the study of General History.

This subject is taken up in much the same manner as is United States History. Under Ancient History a brief account of the following countries is studied: Egypt, Babylonla and Assyria, Phœnicia, Judea, Media and Persia, India, China, Greece and Rome. In connection with the two latter some attention is given to the classic writers, together with manners and customs.

The principal facts in Mediæval History are grouped around the rise of the Saracens, the Frankish Kingdom, the modern nations, Italy, the Crusades, Moors in Spain, etc.

Under Modern History the leading events of the sixteenth century are clustered around Charles the Fifth of Spain, the rise of the Dutch Republic, the Civil-Religious wars of France, the Tudors in England, etc.

Under the seventeenth century are considered the "Thirty Years' War," the history of France, England under the Stuarts; in the eighteenth century Peter the Great, and Charles the Twelfth of Sweden, the growth of Prussia under Frederick the Great, England under the House of Hanover, the French Revolution; in the nineteenth century the history of the following countries is taken up in order: France, England, Germany, Italy, Turkey, Greece, the Netherlands, Japan.

G. CLAYTON ROBERTSON, Instructor.

COURSE IN GYMNASTICS.

The system taught is the Swedish Gymnastics. All students are required to take regular lessons, unless excused on account of some organic disease. Gymnastic work is primarily for the weak, not for those already strong. The work is so adapted as to benefit all and injure none.

Gymnastics has its place in the school curriculum, not only for the improvement and maintenance of the health of the pupils, but also for its distinctive educational effects. The equal development of the cerebral hemispheres, the cultivation of concentrated attention, and of volition and courage, are possible to the teacher of educational gymnastics.

Each day's exercises will consist of introductions, arch flexions, heaving (hanging) movements, balance movements, shoulder blade movements, marching and running, abdominal exercises, lateral trunk movements, slowing movements, jumping and vaulting, respiratory exercises.

In addition to the practical work in the gymnasium, lectures on the theory and method of gymnastic work are required of all members of the Senior class.

Also teaching of gymnastics in the Model School is required of Seniors, under the supervision of the director of gymnastics.

All pupils will be obliged to wear clothing suitable for the gymnasium—divided skirt and loose blouse for the ladies, and a negligee shirt for the men, and rubber soled shoes for all.

A certificate will be required from every pupil from some physician stating whether he or she has any heart trouble or other organic disease.

ANNIE C. SKEELE, Instructor.

DEPARTMENT OF ARTS.

Drawing.

Five recitation periods, weekly, of forty-five minutes each, for at least twenty-four weeks, are required of the Junior class for Drawing.

The course includes outline and shaded drawing of type solids, and original groupings of same; drawings of objects and buildings to illustrate principles taught by solids; working drawings; kindergarten work, including clay modeling, and charts showing examples of paper cutting, folding and weaving, stick laying and harmony of color; rules of light and shade; perspective, its principles and practical applications; plans of buildings; groups of geometrical solids and vases in applied perspective; freehand; foliage from nature; methods of teaching drawing; technical terms; blackboard illustrations; designing.

JULIA AUGUSTA SUCESE, Instructor.

Penmanship.

The time required of the Preparatory class for Penmanship is not specified. A definite amount of work must be accomplished.

The classes observe the following:

1. Suitable and healthful position of body.
2. A proper method of pen-holding.
3. A movement regular, and as free as is consistent with good form.
4. A neat and business-like arrangement of the matter written.

Due attention is given to proportions, classifications, analysis of letters, etc., and special drill lessons are given in movements and methods of teaching.

Book-Keeping.

Five recitation periods, weekly, of forty-five minutes each, for one-half term (7 weeks), are required of the Preparatory class for Book-keeping.

The following is an outline of the work:

Definitions and illustrations.

Forms of accounts.

Debit and credit.

What an account shows.

Closing an account.

Special forms.

Partnership.

Checks, notes and drafts.

Students are required to present for examination a set of books containing such exercises as the teacher shall designate.

Vocal Music.

The students are required to pass a satisfactory examination in the elementary principles of Vocal Music. This requires a thorough knowledge of all the Scales, Keys, Signatures, Clefs, different kinds of Measures, Notes, Rests, etc. They must be able to write easy exercises in any key, and to transpose any one key into any other key. A knowledge of the Tonic Sol Fa system is also required. Seniors will be required to give instruction in this as in other subjects in the Model School.

Prizes and Honors.

For excellence in scholarship, during the year 1897-98, four prizes are offered, as follows:

1. A prize of $25 to the student who makes the highest average standing in all the subjects of the Senior year in the Elementary course. Limited to under graduates.

2. A prize of $20 to the student who makes the second highest average standing in all the subjects of the Senior year in the Elementary course. Limited to under graduates.

3. A prize of $25 to the student who makes the highest average standing in all the subjects of the Junior year in the Elementary course.

4. A prize of $20 to the student who makes the second highest average standing in all the subjects of the Junior class in the Elementary course.

All these prizes are offered with the following conditions: (1) there must be in every case at least two competitors; (2) no prize will be awarded except for meritorious work.

The prizes offered last year were awarded as follows:

The prize of $25 to the student who made the highest standing in Greek, to Louise E. Watrous, of Montrose, Susquehanna county.

The prize of $25 to the student who made the highest average standing in all the subjects of the Senior year in the Elementary course, to Louise E. Watrous, of Montrose, Susquehanna county.

The prize of $20 to the student who made the second highest average standing in all the subjects of the Senior year in the Elementary course, to Lora Hillis, of Rushville, Susquehanna county.

The prize of $25 to the student who made the highest average standing in all the subjects of the Junior year in the Elementary course, to Eugene C. Crittenden, of Oswayo, Potter county.

The prize of $20 to the student who made the second highest average standing in all the subjects of the Junior class in the Elementary course, to Mattie D. Bodine, of Mansfield, Tioga county.

The Board of Trustees have authorized the presentation of two gold medals for excellence in oratory and original compositions respectively. These medals are to be awarded annually to the two members of the Senior class who shall become entitled to them by the decision of three competent judges. The contests for the medal in the class of 1897 were held in Alumni Hall, June 11th and 12th.

The medal for oratory was awarded to Edith Glenn Bennington, of Williamsport, Lycoming county.

The medal for original composition was awarded to Arthur A. Watkins, of Arnot, Tioga county. Following are the programmes:

FRIDAY EVENING, JUNE 11.

Expenses.

Tuition in all branches, and board, including fuel, oil, room rent, and ordinary washing, $63.00 per term, or $189 per year. No extras. The first payment, $40.00, to be made on the first day of the term; the second payment, $23.00, to be made at the middle of the term.

The total expenses for the year are $189. When students avail themselves of State appropriations (see page 45), the expenses are reduced for the Junior year to $168, and for the Senior year to $118.

Tuition, without board, including all branches above, $14.00 per term, or $42 per year. The first payment $7.00, to be made the first day of the term; the second payment, $7.00, to be made the middle of the term.

With a view of discouraging a too prevalent desire to make rapid advancement, which is always inconsistent with good scholarship, tuition will be reduced from $14.00 to $7.00 per term to students who are under seventeen years of age, and who take, during the year, only the studies of the Preparatory year, viz: Arithmetic as far as Ratio, Book-keeping, Civil Government, Geography, English Grammar—second term or (b) class, History of the United States, Reading Physiology, Spelling, Writing, Vocal Music.

Deduction will be made to students absent from school two consecutive weeks or more on account of sickness or other satisfactory reasons. No deduction will be made to students entering within the first two weeks, or leaving within the last two weeks, of a term. All bills must be settled with the Treasurer.

By an Act of the Legislature, the following appropriations are made by the State to Normal Students and Normal Graduates:

1. Each student over 17 years of age, who shall sign a paper declaring his intention to teach in the Common Schools of the State, shall receive Fifty Cents a week.
2. Each student who, upon graduation, shall sign an agreement to teach in the Common Schools of the State two full school years, shall receive the sum of Fifty Dollars.
3. Any student to secure these benefits must attend the school at least twelve consecutive weeks, and he must receive regular instruction in the science and art of teaching in a special class devoted to that object for the whole time such an allowance is drawn.

RATES OF TUITION FOR SPECIAL INSTRUCTION.

Elocution.

For a course of twelve lessons	$6 00
For a course of eight lessons	5 00
For less than eight lessons, per lesson	75

Art.

Private lessons in any of the branches, per term of fourteen weeks, one lesson a week	12 00
Single private lessons	1 00
Class lessons of three hours in any of the branches except China painting in Royal Worcester style, with not less than five in the class, per term of fourteen weeks, one lesson a week	6 00
Single class lessons	50

Music.

Term of Fourteen Weeks, two lessons a week, payable strictly in advance.

Piano, 1st and 2d grades, two in class	10 00
Piano, 3d, 4th and 5th grades, two in class	15 00
Piano, 3d, 4th and 5th grades, private lessons	20 00
Voice, all grades, class of two	16 00
Voice, all grades, private lessons	22 00
Violin, all grades, class of two	15 00
Violin, all grades, private lessons	20 00
Cornet, all grades, class of two	12 00
Cornet, all grades, private lessons	18 00
Harmony and Counterpoint, class lessons	5 00

One Lesson a Week.

Piano, 1st and 2d grades, two in class	7 50
Piano, 3d, 4th and 5th grades, two in class	10 00
Piano, 3d, 4th and 5th grades, private lessons	14 00
Voice, all grades, class of two	10 00
Voice, all grades, private lessons	15 00
Violin, all grades, class of two	10 00
Normal Teachers' class	5 00

Rent of Piano, periods of 45 minutes each	$2 00
Practicing on Pedal Piano, one period	3 00
Practicing on Pedal Organ, per hour	25
Practicing on Virgil Practice Clavier, one period	1 00

Students will be required to pay for all sheet music, studies, etc., necessary for their instruction. This will be supplied by the school at a reduced rate.

No deduction made for absence of student except in cases of protracted illness.

Positively no lesson will be given until tuition is paid.

Students may enter at any time and will be graded according to ability.

Any student lacking a knowledge of any of the theory studies will be required to make up any such studies before entering the next higher grade.

Gentlemen's rooms are furnished with heat, light, dressing case with mirror, chairs, tables, stands, pails, bedsteads, mattresses, pillows, and one comfortable.

Ladies' rooms are furnished with heat, carpet, couch, or two rockers, chairs, tables, and bedroom set complete, pillows, and one comfortable. Mirror on dressing case.

Students furnish lamps, wash-bowls and pitchers, napkins, towels, pillow-slips, sheets, and one comfortable. The last five articles enumerated, together with all articles of clothing, should be distinctly marked with full name.

Students have the privilege of renting text-books at a nominal rate.

Miscellaneous.

Library.

A good circulating library, catalogued after the most modern and improved plan, is open daily to all students free of charge. All students have access at any time to a large reference library.

Reading Room.

One of the large and pleasant corner rooms of the Gymnasium building is used for a reference library and reading room. The room is supplied with cyclopædias and other books of reference, and all the best magazines published in the country, besides many of the best weekly and daily papers. The room is open at stated hours every day of the week.

The Reading Room is furnished and managed by the Reading Room Association, which comprises most of the faculty and students of the entire school.

The Association elects officers on the first Friday of each term. The office of President of the Association for the past year has been filled by James C. Dalton, Will George Butler and Nelson Coon.

Apparatus and Cabinet.

Literary Societies.

There are four literary societies all in a flourishing condition:

The Athenæan, Normal Literary, Philalethean and the Agonian.

The Athenæan and Normal Literary societies are composed of both ladies and gentlemen. They have finely furnished rooms and good libraries. The Philalethean society is composed of gentlemen, and is a chapter of the Philalethean Fraternity. The Agonian society is composed of ladies, and is a chapter of the Agonian Fraternity.

Presidents of Literary Societies During the Past Year:

Of the Normal Literary Society—

Austin H. Updyke, Julia L. Goodspeed, Fred H. Gaige.

Of the Athenæan Society—

Claud E. Stevens, Albert M. Cochran, Arthur A. Watkins.

Of the Agonian Society—

Mary Bates, Clara Merrick, Katherine Whippy.

Of the Philalethean Society—

James C. Dalton, T. F. Hanahue, Nelson Coon.

Lectures and Entertainments.

Lecture courses of a high order of excellence are maintained by the literary societies, and by the Y. M. C. A. Many scientific and popular lectures are given with the aid of the stereopticon. Frequent musical entertainments are given by the Music Department, and by the literary societies.

Religious Associations.

The Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. have organizations of the students which maintain weekly religious meetings.

Athletic Association.

An Athletic Association of the students has done a great deal to encourage and promote out-door sports. The base ball and foot ball teams of the school have made a fine record during the past year.

Location, Buildings and Grounds.

Mansfield is a fine rural village of 2,000 inhabitants, situated on the Tioga division of the Erie railroad, thirty-six miles from Elmira, N. Y. Its citizens are intelligent and enterprising. By special act of the legislature no intoxicating liquors can be sold, nor billiard tables kept, within a radius of two miles of the Normal School. The students are therefore protected from many temptations, to which they would be exposed in many other localities. The sanitary condition of the village is excellent. The altitude is sufficient for the purest air, the sewage is complete, and pure water is brought from a mountain stream. The Normal School buildings present a noble and imposing aspect. The school grounds have an area of ten acres. The lawns about the buildings are beautifully laid out and covered with a great variety of forest trees.

On the 12th of December, 1862, the Mansfield Classical Seminary was accepted by the State, and declared the State Normal School of the Fifth District. The seminary building, accepted by the State, was the main portion of what is now called the South Hall.

This is a brick structure, one hundred fifty feet in length by fifty feet in width. In this building are the gentlemen's dormitories, the circulating library, chapel, six recitation rooms, and the text-book library. This building, formerly the old seminary, was enlarged and remodeled in 1889. One hundred fifty feet north, and the same distance east, of south hall, stands the North Hall.

This building is now in process of complete reconstruction from foundation to roof. The cut represents it as it will be, when finished, one of the finest school buildings in the country. The walls are of brick, the interior finishing of natural wood. All the material and workmanship are of the very best. The building is two hundred seventy feet long by one hundred feet wide, and five stories high. It contains an elegant dining room, finished in oak, large enough to seat five hundred, the kitchen, bakery, etc., dormitories for the ladies, reception rooms, suits of rooms for the Art Department, and for the Music Department. Two stories of an ell projecting from the northeast corner of the building, and completely removed from the other rooms, are set apart as an infirmary. They are completely furnished with every appliance for the sick. The central part of the building contains an elevator, Principal's office, reception room, office and class room for the Music Department, apartments for Steward and Matron in front, and dormitories and bath rooms in the rear. The dormitories on every floor of both buildings are supplied with bath tubs and everything needed for health and comfort. All the buildings are heated by steam and supplied with fire escapes of the best construction. The cost of the north building when completed and furnished, will not be less than $150,000. Midway between the north and the south buildings is

Alumni Hall.

This is a brick building, fifty-four by one hundred seventeen feet, three stories high. It contains the Model School rooms, recitation rooms, the society rooms, and a concert hall which occupies one entire story. This building was completed in 1886 at a cost of $25,000. In the rear of the south building stands the Gymnasium.

This is a fine structure; it is a frame building, fifty by one hundred thirty feet. It contains a large drill hall, fifty by one hundred feet, and four spacious rooms adjoining, one for library and reading room, one for the military company, one for cabinet specimens, and one for ladies' dressing room. The drill hall is well furnished with apparatus. This building was erected in 1888 at a cost of $7,000.

How to Reach Mansfield.

Mansfield is thirty-six miles from Elmira via the Erie railroad; twenty-seven miles from Corning via Fall Brook and Erie railroads; twenty-three miles from Wellsboro via Fall Brook railroad from Wellsboro to Lawrenceville, and thence via Erie railroad, or twelve miles from Wellsboro by stage; sixteen miles from Troy, on the Northern Central railroad, by stage; and ten miles from Blossburg via Erie railroad.

Students coming via Northern Central railroad may take stage at Roaring Branch for Blossburg, thence to Mansfield by railroad, or take stage at Troy direct to Mansfield, or keep the railroad via Elmira. Passengers from the East, by the Erie, change cars at Elmira; by the Lehigh Valley, change at Waverly, thence to Elmira by the Erie; by the D., L. & W., change at Lawrenceville, thence by the Erie to Mansfield. Students coming from the West on the Erie or D., L. & W. railroads, change cars at Corning. Students coming from the West and South by the Fall Brook railroad, change at Lawrenceville.

All baggage should be distinctly marked with the name of the owner, and "STATE NORMAL SCHOOL," to insure its being brought to the Normal buildings. Whenever baggage is to be taken to the station, it should be marked with the name and destination of the owner.

ELEMENTARY COURSE.

Junior Year.

PHYSICAL CULTURE.

Senior Year.

PHYSICAL CULTURE.

REGULAR NORMAL COURSE.

[Three Years.]

[This course includes the studies of the Elementary Course, and the following branches: A full equivalent will be accepted for any of the text-books named in this course.]

PEDAGOGICS.—Advanced Psychology; Moral Science; Philosophy of Education; Methods of Teaching; Practice of Teaching; Pedagogical Works: Fröbel, Education of Man; Quick, Educational Reformers; Fitch, Lectures on Teaching; School Apparatus; School Supervision; Discussion of Manual Training; Physical Culture, etc.

MATHEMATICS.—Solid Geometry; Plane and Analytical Trigonometry; Surveying.

NATURAL SCIENCE.—Chemistry, including Chemistry of Soils; Zoology, including Entomology; Geology.

LITERATURE.—Higher Literature, English and American, including a study of at least four classics.

SCIENTIFIC COURSE.

[Four Years.]

PEDAGOGICS.—Logic; Course of Professional Reading selected from regular or advanced Normal Course; a thesis on a professional subject.

LANGUAGE.—Latin, three books of Virgil's Æneid; three orations of Cicero, or a full equivalent. (An equivalent of Greek, German or French will be accepted for any of the following studies: Virgil, Cicero, Higher Algebra, Spherical Trigonometry, Surveying, Analytical Geometry, Calculus, Mathematical Natural Philosophy, and Mathematical Astronomy, and an equivalent in Latin, and advanced work in Natural Science for any of the foregoing mathematical studies.)

MATHEMATICS.—Higher Algebra; Spherical Trigonometry and Surveying, with use of instruments; Analytical Geometry; Differential and Integral Calculus.

NATURAL SCIENCE.—Higher Natural Philosophy; Astronomy, Descriptive and Mathematical.

HISTORICAL SCIENCE.—English History; Grecian History; Roman History.

ADVANCED NORMAL COURSE.

[Five Years.]

[This course includes the studies of the Scientific Course, and one year's additional work in Pedagogics, as follows: A full equivalent will be accepted for any of the text-books in the course.]

PSYCHOLOGY.—James, Advanced Course.

Discussion of Methods and Objects of Leading Educators; Fröbel, Pestalozzi, Dr. Arnold, Horace Mann, and others.

Discussion of Educational Theories.

Mr Peterson has completed the work named.

Education in the United States; Education in Pennsylvania, Wickersham; General Survey of History of Public Education in Germany, France, and England.

Advanced work in Language, Mathematics, Natural Science, etc., may be taken at the option of the student.

COLLEGE PREPARATORY COURSES.

[These courses have been instituted by this school for the benefit of students who desire to pursue a course of study at the college or university, and they require from one to two years after completing the Elementary Course. Students who complete these courses are admitted without examination, to Cornell University, Lafayette College, Bucknell University, and Pennsylvania State College.]

1. Preparatory to Classical Course.

HISTORY.—History of the United States; Outlines of Roman History; Outlines of Grecian History.

PHYSIOLOGY.—Martin's Text Book complete, or the equivalent.

LATIN.—Latin Grammar and Reader; Cæsar's Commentaries, four books; Cicero's Orations, four against Cataline, and "Pro Archia;" Virgil's Æneid, six books; Latin Prose Composition.

GREEK.—Greek Grammar and Reader; Xenophon's Anabasis, four books; Homer's Iliad, three books; Greek Prose Composition.

II. Preparatory to Latin Scientific Course.

This course is the same as the Classical Course, except that for Greek, German, and Elementary Physics are substituted.

III. Preparatory to a Technical Course.

ENGLISH.—Spelling; Reading; English Grammar and Composition; Rhetoric.

HISTORY.—History of the United States; General History.

GEOGRAPHY.—Political and Physical Geography complete.

PHYSIOLOGY.—Martin's Text Book complete, or the equivalent.

COURSE IN AGRICULTURE.

History of Agriculture; care and management of live stock; cattle feeding; stock breeding; dairying, composition and production of milk, butter and cheese; poultry culture; the more common diseases of farm animals, their treatment and prevention; soils, tillage and farm tools; drainage and irrigation, farm manures and commercial fertilizers, their comparative value and adaptation to various crops; fruit culture; vegetable gardening; insects and diseases injurious to farm crops, with methods of treatment and prevention; nature study, embracing field-work for observation and study of common objects, such as stones, twigs, leaves, flowers, birds, insects, and the like.

COURSE IN ART.

Elementary and Freehand Drawing is taught as a regular branch in the Elementary Course.

Special Art Classes.

FIRST YEAR.

Freehand drawing with lead pencil or charcoal from the type solids, and objects based on them. Designs in relief from cast; fragments of the antique from cast; painting in monochrome from still life; painting of flowers and landscape from the flat in oil and water colors; pen and ink work from objects and copies; sketching from nature in the spring; sketching from costumed life once a week.

SECOND YEAR.

Freehand drawing of heads from the antique, with lead pencil or charcoal; painting of figures from the flat in oil and water colors; pen and ink work from objects; sketching from costumed life; sketching from nature in the fall and spring.

THIRD YEAR.

Freehand drawing of the full length figure from the antique; more advanced work in painting from still life in oil and water colors; sketching from costumed life in pen and ink; elementary work in designing wall paper, book covers, etc.; painting from nature in oil and water colors; illustrating.

Beside the studies here named, every candidate for graduation in this course must pass satisfactory examination in the subjects of the Preparatory and Junior classes of the Elementary Course or their equivalent, with the exception of bookkeeping, Algebra, and Latin. German may be substituted for Civil Government, and for a part of the course in Arithmetic.

This course is laid out on the basis of three years' time, with two lessons a week, for a student of ordinary talent and with reasonable application. Students who show more than ordinary talent or who increase the number of lessons per week, may shorten the time, as advancement is determined by what is really accomplished rather than by time spent.

For a more detailed account of the methods employed in this department, see under Material and Methods of Instruction.

COURSES IN MUSIC.

There are three courses in music: The course in Piano, the course in Violin, and the course in Singing. Students may receive a diploma on completing any course.

Studies Required in all the Courses.

The study of Harmony, the History of Music, and practice in reading music at sight, are required in all the courses. Also, before graduation from either course, the student must pass satisfactory examinations in the subjects of the Preparatory and Junior Classes of the Elementary Course, with the exception of bookkeeping, Algebra, and Latin. German may be substituted for Civil Government and for a part of the course in Arithmetic.

Studies Required in Each Course.

Beside the studies named as required in all the courses, the following studies, or their full equivalent, will be required in each course for graduation. These courses are laid out upon the basis of three years' time, with two lessons a week, for a student of ordinary talent and with reasonable application.

To students who show more than ordinary capacity for improvement, the length of time or the number of lessons may be reduced, as students will be advanced and graduated according to what they accomplish rather than to the number of lessons taken. Advancement in the course will be determined in a large degree by the ability and progress shown at the weekly recitals, and at the more public recitals at the close of each half-term. A record will be kept of the merits of every performance on these occasions, as well as of all examinations in theory. Graduation will depend upon these records and upon the character and conduct of the candidate.

The course in Vocal Music required in the Junior Class will be free of charge to students of music as to other students.

In case of unavoidable absence, from sickness or other cause, lessons will be made up, if the teacher is notified beforehand.

Course in Piano.

FIRST YEAR.

Czerny, beginning exercises; Matthews' Graded Studies, books one, two, and three; hand shaping; exercises with clavier; Mason's Touch and Technic; easy pieces memorized; easy sonatas and pieces by Clementi and Kullak; scale work.

SECOND YEAR.

Matthews' Graded Studies, books four, five, and six; Mason's Touch and Technic; Bach; easy preludes; clavier work; ensemble playing; scales and arpeggios; easy sonatas and pieces by Hadyn, Mozart and others; pieces memorized; Mendelssohn; Hadyn; easy pieces by Schumann.

THIRD YEAR.

Matthews' Graded Studies, books seven, eight, and nine; Clementi; studies in Bach; Chopin and Kullak; Schumann; Mendelssohn; Beethoven; sonatas memorized.

Course in Singing.

FIRST YEAR.

Principles of breathing, as applied to tone production and art of vocalization, to be continued through the course according to the requirements of individuals. Ear training; sight reading; tone placing; exercises from Concone; Vaccii; chorus work; easy songs.

SECOND YEAR.

Application of the foregoing work to all needs in the second year. Music in this year will be selected with special regard to the necessity of employing particular points in the voice management. Exercises from Marchesi, and Bordogni; ensemble singing; balads memorized; frequent appearance at the Wednesday evening recitals.

THIRD YEAR.

Study of oratorios; German and Italian songs; advanced technical songs; operatic music; chorus work.

For graduation from this course the first year of the course in piano or the equivalent will be required.

Course in Violin.

FIRST YEAR.

Easy exercises and pieces in first position ; Weiss' Method ; Weiss' easy pieces for violin and piano ; work in second and third positions started at close of year.

SECOND YEAR.

Work in second and third positions; scale work; pieces memorized; Wolfhardt, and Kayser studies; violin duos and trios.

THIRD YEAR.

Ferdinand David's advanced method; studies by Mazas; Kreutzer; violin concertos; pieces by De Beriot, Wieniawski; duo and quartet playing.

For a more detailed account of the methods of instruction employed in this department, see under Material and Methods of Instruction.

Course in the Model School.

For a description of the course in the Model School, see under Material and Methods of Instruction.

MATERIAL AND METHODS OF INSTRUCTION.

The aim of the Normal School is to furnish competent teachers for the public schools of the State. The mental equipment of a teacher consists of (1) knowledge of the subject matter to be taught, (2) knowledge of the laws of mental action, and (3) knowledge of those methods of imparting instruction and of moving the will which are in most complete harmony with the laws of mental action: this last knowledge may be either theoretical or practical. With the successful teacher it is both.

In this school the student receives his knowledge of subject matter in his daily study and recitations; he acquires an elementary knowledge of the laws of mental action by the study of psychology. In order to supply him with a theoretical knowledge of the best method of imparting instruction and of moving the will, we give regular instruction in Methods and School Economy, and History of Education. Finally, to furnish him, as far as possible, with the needed practical skill, we introduce the senior to the work of actual teaching in the Model School.

DEPARTMENT OF PEDAGOGY.

Psychology.

Two recitation periods, weekly, of forty-five minutes each, during the fall and winter terms, are required of the senior class for Psychology.

The aim is to present the fundamental principles of the science in a manner so simple that the student can understand them, and in so practical a light that he may see their application in methods.

The work consists of lectures on the nervous system and special senses; the study of the intellect, the sensibilities, and the will with their relation to each other; the analysis of the intellect, observing the natural order of development; the special study of the intellectual faculties, with their relations to the sensibilities and the will; instinct, reflex action, and habit.

History of Education.

Three recitation periods, weekly, of forty-five minutes each, during the spring term, are required of the senior class for the History of Education.

The aim is to acquaint the student with the origin and development of the theories and methods which he has adopted, to awaken in him an interest in the personal history and character of the great educators of the past, and, in general, to give him more intelligence and a deeper interest in matters pertaining to his profession.

The work consists of a study of selections from Compayre's History of Pedagogy and lectures on the History of Education in America.

Logic.

Two recitation periods, weekly, of forty-five minutes each, for one-half term, are required of the graduate classes for Logic.

The aim is to acquaint the student with the exact use of terms, the classification of propositions, the rules of the syllogism and the different kinds of reasoning.

Moral Science.

Two recitation periods, weekly, of forty-five minutes each, for one term, are required of the graduate classes for Moral Science.

The aim is to study some of the most prominent theories of different philosophers in regard to the standard of ethics, the psychological basis of these theories, and to consider a rational system of practical Ethics. Instruction is given by lectures.

S. H. ALBRO, Instructor.

Teaching.

THEORY.

The equivalent of two recitation periods, weekly, of forty-five minutes each, during the year, are required of the senior class for Methods.

The aim is to discuss the best methods of teaching each of the branches taught in common schools, and to discover the psychological basis of the methods recommended. This course in Methods is designed to be the study of applied psychology, and at the same time, a preparation for the duties of the schoolroom.

Three recitation periods, weekly, of forty-five minutes each, during the whole year, are required of the Junior class for Methods and School Economy.

The aim is to furnish students who may teach school before entering the senior class with such an empirical knowledge of methods, and such practical hints in regard to the management of a school, as he is most in need of as a preparation for his work.

PRACTICE.

The Model School comprises the public school of the town. It is divided into eleven grades, and embraces Primary, Intermediate, Grammar, and Academic studies.

Teaching in this school gives our students an opportunity to put into practice the theory and methods of instruction received in the course of professional work.

Forty weeks or more of practice work is required of each senior, who does his work under the constant direction of the critic teachers of this department. The student teachers meet with the critic teachers to hear criticisms on their work. Individual criticisms are made and suggestions offered as needed. A single term of this practice will do more for a student teacher than years of schoolroom work without advice or criticisms.

Each student teacher is also appointed critic for a definite period of time. A written report of his observations is then handed to the critic teachers for inspection, and whatever is particularly worthy of note, or subject to criticism, is afterward discussed before the class.

The methods, the language, power of securing and holding attention, discipline, manner and teaching power, are noted and errors criticised.

Earnest effort is made to impress the fact that a poor disciplinarian cannot succeed in the schoolroom, and every principle relating to discipline is seriously and carefully discussed. During the year there are senior class exhibitions of teaching, after which each student has an opportunity to make criticisms or ask advice.

S. H. ALBRO, Instructor.

DEPARTMENT OF LANGUAGE.

Reading.

A class is organized at the beginning of each term. Selections from McGuffey's fifth and Harper's fifth and sixth readers are assigned for study. Supplementary reading from magazines and newspapers is occasionally employed. We recognize four aims to be kept in view: First, we aim to help the pupil acquire correct articulation, enunciation, and pronunciation. This includes careful drill in the elementary sounds of the language, in the phonetic analysis of words, and in diacritical marking. Practical work is given in the many uses of the dictionary; e. g., pronunciation, definition, use of gazeteer, biographical and other departments. Second, we aim to give the student power and facility in getting the thought of an author from the written words. We recommend the student to practice reading aloud in his room. This is better than the silent reading for the reason that the student who reads silently forms the habit of partially getting the author's thought without clearly recognizing the meaning of the words. By reading aloud, on the other hand, the inability of the reader to call the words readily, or to understand their meaning, is forced upon his attention. The third aim is to secure an adequate oral expression of the thought and spirit of what is read. This result is not possible without the preparation gained by the work indicated above. Fourth, we seek to inculcate the love of good literature.

Elocution.

This course is special and optional with the student.

In the early stages of the work much attention is given to the formation of correct habits of breathing and to the acquirement of a clear, resonant tone-quality that shall be free from throat effort. The department does not aim to give any series of voice gymnastics but merely to correct bad habits and form good ones. Perfect harmony should exist between the thought and the mediums by which it is expressed, viz., voice and gesture and development in each should go hand in hand. The pupil's power of expression is developed by appealing to his reasoning and imaginative faculties rather than to his powers of imitation. Selections adapted to the pupil's ability are assigned him. He is never forced into trying to portray emotions which he cannot comprehend. "Southwick's Primer of Elocution and Action," and "Shoemaker's Advanced Elocution" are used as text books. Supplementary work is obtained from our best speakers and writers. Pupils may take one to two private lessons per week of forty-five minutes each.

are chosen from a submitted list. The outline and the completed work are reviewed. We aim to give in this list such subjects as will stimulate thought and will result in the student's individual and clear expression of it. Although the pupil is allowed to choose his own declamation, yet he is advised to select something which shall have some literary value and so receive twofold benefit from committing it to memory. The pupils receive a number of private elocution lessons, without charge, while they are preparing this work for delivery. A certain number of the best are chosen to contest for the gold medals awarded in each department. This contest takes place in Commencement week.

MOLLIE TRACY WESTON, Instructor.

Spelling.

Thorough and persistent drill work in spelling is necessary. This necessity is especially evident in a Normal school that draws its students from so many localities where thorough and well directed primary work is as yet unattainable. Though this drill must be persistent, it need not be a "grind" as some seem to think. When accompanied by instruction in the correct pronunciation, meaning, and use of words it becomes a very interesting as well as a profitable method of the study of English. This interest is greatly increased by the introduction of variety in the exercises. Some of the methods that have especially approved themselves are here described:

I.

Preparation of advance lesson; phonic drill, words pronounced, syllables and accent noted, difficult or unusual words drilled upon; lesson of the day written and misspelled words corrected. Various ways of writing and correcting words may be used. They may be written in lists and marked by pupils, or in sentences dictated by the teacher. The teacher may pronounce the words and pupils write them in original sentences to be corrected either by the class or the teacher. Paragraphs from newspapers and other sources are frequently written from dictation. Frequent exercises in rapid oral spelling will be found helpful.

II.

1. Teacher calls roll. 2. Students open books and pronounce words for the following day. Teacher assists in correcting accent and pronunciation, gives meaning of words when necessary, etc. 3. Students lay away books and prepare to write. 4. Teacher dictates anywhere from thirty to fifty words from the lesson assigned from book the previous day. These words are to be written upon tablet paper of uniform size (8 by 10) throughout the class. 5. Two days of each week the teacher is the sole inspector of the work and makes her class record mostly from this. The other three days students exchange papers and correct the work, the students spelling the words usually. Papers are then handed back to the owners and a moment given in which to make note of misspelled words before collecting papers. The above will take only about half of the time of the recitation. 6. The teacher next dictates a list of words which she has prepared, selecting them from different spelling books, from newspapers and various places. These words, not having been studied by the class, will be given by the teacher in sentences almost wholly. Occasionally the teacher will read from newspaper and dictate as she goes along. At the close of the exercise teacher or pupil spells these words, students make note (in book kept for that purpose) of misspelled words. After a time note books become as valuable to the student as spelling books.

The above method is varied by having drills in sounds, diacritical marking of words and by teaching the most helpful rules of spelling. Occasionally recitation conducted orally.

III.

For the advanced lesson the teacher pronounces twenty or twenty-five words which have been selected from the speller in use. (Number of page or exercise announced to class.) In addition, ten or fifteen words are chosen from books, magazines or newspapers. The teacher may use these in sentences when pronouncing to the class or the article from which the words are taken may be read. These words are then spelled by the teacher, the pupil checking the words he has misspelled and afterward looking them up in the dictionary or speller and correcting. A word is rarely spelled for the pupil to copy. If he is uncertain of the spelling the act of looking it up will help to fix it in his memory. A little drill is then given on the difficult sounds, the syllabication, accent and meaning of these words so that the pupil may study them intelligently. Stress is laid on the distinct articulation of the word.

The pupil is directed to keep in a note book a correct list of the words he misspells. The lesson for the day is then pronounced, papers exchanged and words corrected by either pupil or teacher spelling them aloud. Reference is again made to the correct pronunciation and meaning of unfamiliar words. The pupil may be asked to use these words in original sentences. Papers are returned and a moment given in which the pupils make note of misspelled words in note books. Then the papers are collected. The teacher examines these and takes note of the words that have been incorrectly spelled, pronouncing them the following day with the assigned lesson. Once a week a general review is given. Occasionally a lesson is spelled orally.

English Grammar.

A preparatory class in grammar is organized for students that are not sufficiently advanced to enter upon the Junior work in this subject. For the Junior work two classes are organized, requiring one and two terms, respectively, to complete the subject.

English Grammar is both a science and an art. The study of technical grammar, including, as it should, analysis of sentences, construction of words, and the application of principles in parsing, affords the best possible opportunity for the exercise of the reasoning faculties. If correctly presented, the study of grammar is excelled by no other study in affording material for mental discipline.

The study of grammar should be made practical, since ability to speak and write the English language is the end chiefly sought. Careful attention is given to the inflection of nouns, pronouns, adjectives, verbs, and adverbs, the principal parts of irregular verbs, the classification and analysis of sentences, and the correct uses of words.

One recitation, weekly, is devoted to composition work, including letter writing, uses of capital letters, and, incidentally, the commonest rules of punctuation. Near the close of the term, each student is required to hand in a satisfactory essay upon a subject assigned him by the teacher. Not less than an equivalent of two recitations per week is given to the study of practical grammar.

The text books in use are Maxwell's "Advanced Lessons in English Grammar," and Reed and Kellogg's "Higher Lessons in English." The former book is used for analysis of sentences, classification and inflection of the parts of speech, while the latter is used for composition work and the correction of errors in the use of English.

H. J. VAN NORMAN, Instructor.

Rhetoric and Composition.

The work in Rhetoric and Composition, a term study, covers the following ground:—

1. Punctuation. The important usages not noted in the course in grammar, are considered. Illustrations of these uses are required. Paragraphs for the study of punctuation are assigned, and dictated test work given.

2. Directions for preparing a composition. This is to guide the student in choice of subject, collection of material, preparation of outline, and manuscript.

3. The Paragraph and its Purpose. Examples of isolated and related paragraphs, are studied with reference to the topic sentence, the general laws, and the force of connection. In this work three kinds of composition are taken: description, narration exposition.

4. Sentences. The three rhetorical qualities, clearness, force, unity, are considered, likewise the rhetorical classification of sentences, and the force of each variety. Common errors such as the indefinite use of pronoun, squinting construction, the adverb for the adjective, misapplied modifiers, and false concords, are considered somewhat sparsely.

5. Diction. The value of a good vocabulary, and the means of acquiring it, are discussed. Exercises illustrating the purity, propriety, and precision of words, necessitating a somewhat critical study of words from the dictionary and Crab's Synonyms are employed.

6. The text book used is Lewis's "First Book in Writing English."

Following the work under Section 2, the semi-weekly writing of paragraphs is required, with the aim of training the pupil in the writing of clear, forcible, and appropriate English to tell exactly what he thinks.

FANNY L. SHELDON, Instructor.

English Literature.

The work in English Literature, a term study, is chiefly the study of four classics—Merchant of Venice, Silas Marner. Selections from the Sketch Book, Vision of Sir Launfal. These classics are read critically, with reference to their thought, style, and allusions. Reports and original comments and writings based on these classics are required. In addition to the study of the classics mentioned, the formation of our language through the fusion of the Norman French and Anglo-Saxon is considered, and some of the most prominent men in various epochs, such as Chaucer, Milton, Burns, Scott, Dickens, Irving, and Longfellow, are studied. The text book used is "Shaw's English and American Literature."

FANNY L. SHELDON, Instructor.

Beginning German.

The objects to be attained are: (a) A good pronunciation; (b) Ability to read simple stories; (c) Ability to construct sentences applying the elementary rules of grammar; (d) Ability to understand easy German when spoken.

The first year's work covers the following points: The alphabet, method of pronunciation, declension of articles, adjectives, pronouns, and such nouns as are readily classified, comparison of adjectives, conjugation of auxiliary verbs of tense and of mode, of weak, and the more usual strong verbs, the use of the commoner prepositions, the passive, reflexive, and impersonal verbs, and the elementary rules of syntax and word-order, as given in the first twenty-three exercises of Whitney's German grammar.

For translation and drill, "Guerber's Marchen und Erzählungen," and "Hillern's Hoher als die Kirche" are used.

Advanced German.

Continued work in word-order, use of the indicative, subjunctive, and imperative modes, the tenses, participles, prepositions, and conjunctions as given in Whitney's German Grammar, lessons twenty-one to thirty-four inclusive.

Three classics are read: Wilhelm Tell, Jungfrau von Orleans, Hermann and Dorothea. The aim of the course is to acquire proficiency in more advanced German grammar and to translate ordinary German. Translation at sight and hearing is used throughout each course.

FANNY L. SHELDON, Instructor.

Latin.

The objects sought in the work in Latin are: 1. Ability to pronounce correctly and read intelligently the Latin text. 2. Mastery of inflection, so that number, person, case, mood and tense can be instantly recognized. 3. A working vocabulary. 4. Mastery of the Latin sentence and the ordinary principles of Latin syntax. 5. Translation into idiomatic English.

JUNIOR YEAR.

Five recitation periods of forty-five minutes each, weekly, during two terms, required of Juniors.

Outline of work: Roman method of pronunciation, declension of nouns, pronouns and adjectives, comparison of adjectives and adverbs, conjugation of regular verbs, and of sum, knowledge of the principal rules of syntax gained by writing the exercises in "First Latin Book" by Collar and Daniel.

SENIOR YEAR.

Five recitation periods of forty-five minutes each, weekly, for two terms, required of Seniors.

Outline of work: Translation of the "Helvetian War." (Commentaries, Book 1, chapters 1-29). Syntax of nouns, pronouns, adjectives and verbs completed, conjugation of irregular verbs, word formation, the life of Cæsar, the Roman legion, geography of Gaul.

POST-GRADUATE COURSE.

Cæsar's Commentaries; books 1 (chapters 29 to 54), 2, 3, 4. Five recitation periods, weekly, during the fall term and first half of the winter term.

Supplementary reading on the life and character of Cæsar and the Roman art of war, is required. Constant use is made of the map.

Cicero's Orations; Catiline, 1, 2, 3, 4, Archias. Five recitation periods, weekly, during the second half of the winter and the spring term. Supplementary reading on the life and times of Cicero, Roman Oratory, and the Roman Forum, is required.

Virgil's Æneid; six books. Recitations during the entire year. Virgil's life and his position as a poet; epic poetry; poetic constructions, figures of speech, prosody, mythological and historical references, geography of the Æneid.

Latin Composition: Bennett's Latin Composition complete. Three recitation periods, weekly, during the spring term.

Greek.

The objects sought are similar to those in Latin.

Greek lessons; first Greek book of Gleason and Atherton. Five recitation periods weekly, during the fall and winter terms.

Anabasis; four books. Five recitation periods, weekly, during the spring term, and the fall and winter terms of the following year.

Supplementary reading on the life of Xenophon, history of the period and Greek art of war is required, also a map tracing the route of the ten thousand.

Greek Composition; the last forty lessons of White's "Beginner's Greek Book." Three recitation periods, weekly, during the spring term.

Iliad; three books (omitting in book 2 line 484 to the end). Study of the language of the poem, Homeric syntax, the epic hexameter, mythology, figures of speech.

EUGENIA WINSTON,

Instructors.

DEPARTMENT OF MATHEMATICS.

Arithmetic.

In arithmetic three classes are formed, requiring one, two, and three terms respectively, to complete the subject. The most advanced class begins at ratio, the second class, at percentage, and the third class, at fractions.

Special attention is given to some parts of the arithmetic; for example, fractions, denominate numbers, measurements, longitude and time, pure per centage and its various applications of profit and loss, commission, interest, discount, and taxes. On the other hand there are some parts of the arithmetic which are seldom or never used after leaving school, as equation of payments, averaging accounts, savings bank accounts, alligation, annuities, circulating decimals, and arbitration of exchange, which are omitted altogether.

Every intelligent person admits the superiority of mental arithmetic over written problems as a means of cultivating the memory, increasing the power of attention and strengthening the faculty for concentration of thought. Hence it has been thought best to devote the equivalent of two recitations per week to the solution of mental problems.

In recitation, each topic under discussion is developed by a direct appeal to the reason without reference to any formal rule, while the rule is made use of only as a general deduction drawn from the solution of concrete examples.

H. J. VAN NORMAN, Instructor.

Elementary Algebra.

The junior course requires elementary algebra complete. All principles are demonstrated and fully discussed. Special attention is given to the following subjects: factoring, the solution of simple and quadratic equations, the binomial theorem, square and cube root, progressions, and proportion.

Higher Algebra.

Higher algebra is required in the scientific course and in the regular Normal course. Daily recitations for two terms of fourteen weeks each are given to this subject.

Plane Geometry.

Plane geometry is a senior study, and two terms of fourteen weeks each are required to complete it. The classes have a recitation period of forty-five minutes each, daily. Special attention is given to the demonstration of original propositions, and the solution of problems,

Solid Geometry.

Plane Trigonometry and Surveying.

Many practical problems involving trigonometrical functions are solved. Demonstrations of the formulæ are required. The classes are given a drill in the applications of plane trigonometry to surveying. The transit and other necessary instruments are explained. Surveys are mapped and areas computed.

J. P. BREIDINGER, Instructor.

DEPARTMENT OF PHYSICAL SCIENCE.

The course of study in physical science has for its aim:

1st. To lead the student to acquire the power and habit of accurate observation of the facts of nature and the ability to draw from these facts legitimate inferences as to their causes and relations.

2d. To afford training in the expression, oral and written, of the student's conclusions in clear and forcible language.

3d. To relate everything, as far as possible, to the student's former and present experience.

4th. To make the work as elementary as may be, with a view to the student's use of it in teaching.

Geography—Descriptive and Physical.

The particular aim in view in the study of descriptive geography, is to fix in the mind such knowledge as the student may already have and as far as possible, relate such knowledge to his every-day experiences.

The topical method is used in teaching, and the following summary of topics may indicate the ground covered:

1. The form, size, and motions of the earth.
2. Directions, positions, and measurements.
3. Land masses, continental and insular, with their groupings.
4. Oceanic and inland waters.
5. Political divisions—comparisons with United States.
6. Routes of commerce, communication, and travel.
7. A more thorough and complete study is made of the United States and Pennsylvania.

Physical geography is restricted to the physical features of the earth, and the animals and plants which live upon its surface.

ELIZA J. BOYCE, Instructor.

Agriculture and Nature Study.

This course of instruction has been adopted for its obvious utility especially to students who come, as so many of our students do come, from farming districts. By the adoption of this course, the authorities of the school have shown their recognition of the growing interest and increasing estimation of the value of good farming to the community and the country at large, and of the attractions of a life in the country.

It is believed that when the young men and women are properly educated in these matters, higher estimation of the blessings of country life will stop the present unfortunate tendency to desert the farm and crowd the cities. It seems especially appropriate to a Normal school, where so many teachers of the country districts receive the best of their education. Whatever knowledge and inspiration is imparted here will be at once disseminated by the agencies of the district schools.

The studies of this course, with the exception of nature study, are not required, as yet, for graduation. It will be wholly optional with every student whether he take all the subjects laid down in the course, or a part of them, or none. The value of the work will be explained, and all, especially all who are expecting to teach in country districts, will be urged to pursue it.

The instruction will be imparted mainly by means of lectures, as no suitable text books are yet extant on these subjects.

In the course in nature study which will, of course, be most universally attractive and useful, the work will be very largely of the nature of field work.

Nature study, to quote Professor L. H. Bailey, a high authority on this subject, is "Seeing the things which one looks at and the drawing of proper conclusions from what one sees. Nature study is not the study of a science, as of botany, entomology, geology, and the like. That is, it takes the things at hand and endeavors to understand them, without reference to the systematic order or relationship of the objects. It is wholly informal and unsystematic, the same as the objects are which one sees. It is entirely divorced from definitions or from explanations in books. It is therefore supremely natural. It simply trains the eye and the mind to see and to comprehend the common things of life; and the result is not directly the acquirement of science but the establishment of a living sympathy with everything that is."

W. A. STOCKING, JR., Instructor.

Physiology and Hygiene.

Five recitations per week for one term are required.

A finely mounted skeleton, complete, and a valuable manikin from the best French manufactory, have been furnished to the school. "Martin's Human Body," elementary course, is the text book used. The work includes the study of bones, articulations, muscles, the vascular, respiratory, digestive, and nervous system, elimination, animal heat, and the special senses. In the consideration of each of these subjects special attention is given to the hygiene of the body. The effects of alcohol and tobacco are noted. Of alcohol, the effect on the digestive, respiratory, vascular and nervous systems; its interference with proper oxidation and elimination. Of tobacco, the effect on the throat, digestion, circulation, the nervous system, and the special senses. Special attention is called to the narcotic effects of both alcohol and tobacco on the brain and through it on the will and the moral character of the individual. The fact is emphasized that the delicate tissues and organs of the child and youth are especially sensitive to the influence of stimulants and narcotics, and therefore sure to be injured by their use.

Special physiology is given seniors in lectures on physical culture.

Physics.

The students of the senior class study physics during two terms of the year. The course consists of a series of experiments from Gages' "Introduction to Physical Science," selected with reference to ease of comprehension, and to illustrating the main principles and practical applications of the science.

These experiments are performed by the teachers, questions asked which lead the student to observe closely the conditions and results, and he is expected to draw his own inferences and state them in his own language. The student is expected to be familiar with the text, and questions and problems are given to test his knowledge. Each student then writes in his note book a description of the experiments, illustrating each by a drawing.

The work of physics in the post graduate course is along the same line but more extended, and the students perform a series of experiments.

Botany.

Botany is studied by the junior class during the spring term, about half of the time being devoted to the study of the text book and the remainder to practical work.

A well-lighted room has been furnished with tables and instruments to serve as a botanical laboratory. The class is divided into sections sufficiently small to provide each student with a microscope and afford opportunity for personal supervision and suggestions from the instructor. The practical work with microscope includes the examination of seeds as to their structure, reserve materials, protection and means of dispersal; roots as to their nature, form and means of absorption; buds, as to structure, nature of parts, protection and growth; leaves, as to venation, form and uses; flowers, showing that their parts are stems and leaves metamorphosed to serve particular functions. While dissecting seeds the student is instructed to plant a window garden with seeds similar to the ones examined and study their mode of germination and growth. He is required to keep a complete record of all observations and conclusions, and to illustrate all essential points by drawings.

Each student prepares an herbarium of as many respective plants as time will allow.

The aim of the course is to lead the student to see that the plant is a living organism, that the law of "the survival of the fittest" applies, and that the plant able best to protect itself, to adapt itself to conditions of climate and soil, surpasses its neighbor in the struggle for life.

Zoology.

The scientific class study zoology one term. The method is, so far as practicable, from observation.

The characteristics and classification of animals are studied and lists made by the student of the animals with which he is familiar, putting each in its proper place in the classification.

The course, too brief to be studied in all branches, includes a study of insects as to morphology, development and metamorphosis in the living specimens. The following points are also touched upon; the doctrine of evolution and the criteria by which we judge the animal's rank; the theory of instinct; the voluntary and automatic movements; the principal organs with their functions, adaptations, correlations, and analogies.

Geology.

The students of the scientific course give one term to the study of geology. For this study the school is well equipped. Our cabinet contains a fine collection arranged to illustrate lithology and historical geology. Besides, the surrounding region is almost ideal for excursions to examine the structure and arrangement of rocks and to collect specimens for private cabinets. The effect of frost in aiding to disintegrate rocks, of rivers in eroding their banks and depositing detritus and silt, and of erosion during the glacial period, are well illustrated by the rocks, streams, and hills in this section, and are visited, examined and discussed by the students.

Chemistry.

One term is spent by students of the scientific and post graduate courses in the study of chemistry, the first half being devoted to chemical theory and the more common elements with their properties and symbols, and the equations representing their reactions. A sufficient number of selected experiments are performed by the teacher to illustrate the text. The latter half of the term is spent in individual work. The student performs a list of experiments recommended by the committee of ten for secondary schools, and writes a description of these, together with the equations representing the chemical reactions, in his note books.

Frequent quizzes and examinations are held to test his ability and accuracy.

Astronomy.

One term is spent by students of the scientific and post graduate courses in the study of astronomy.

The student is expected to acquire a correct notion as to the simpler methods and results of astronomical research. He acquaints himself with the facts as given in the text book and verifies them as far as possible, observing the heavens, noting the positions and movements of the planets, and brighter stars, and tracing the principal constellations. The uses of the telescope and spectroscope are explained and illustrated.

The more important statistics are learned, the theories to account for the origin and structure of the universe, and the laws of planetary and cometary motions.

I. M. GAYMAN, Instructor.

DEPARTMENT OF HISTORY AND CIVIL GOVERNMENT.

The work of this department gains importance from the fact that a knowledge of our history and institutions is considered a necessary precedent to intelligent American citizenship.

American History.

In American history, five recitation periods of forty-five minutes each, weekly, for twenty-one weeks, are required of the junior class.

The objects sought are: (a) A knowledge of the leading facts in the political, social, and industrial history of this country; (b) to show the relation to one another of events and movements, from the standpoint of cause and effect; (c) to create a desire for further historical study; (d) to teach patriotism.

Events are associated in their time and place relations, also by their relation to great historical characters. Biography is made prominent. Attention is given to the related facts in English history.

Reading from historical fiction, debates, map-drawings, and historical objects are employed as aids in the study of this branch.

The subject is taken up in the following natural order: Explorations, colonizations, inter-colonial wars, the revolution, Presidential administrations, civil war, events of later history.

Civil Government.

Five recitation periods, weekly, of forty-five minutes each, for a half-term (seven weeks), are required of the junior class for civics. The subject is taken up as a supplement to United States history.

The course attempts a through analysis of the constitution of the United States, a comparison between the National government and the governments of the states, and of foreign countries, and a discussion of the principles of government, and of the reason for the provisions of the constitution, and of the current events relating to civics.

General History.

Two recitation periods, weekly, of forty-five minutes, for one term, are required of the seniors. This course is intended to prepare the pupil for his work in the history of education.

Outlines of the history of Greece, Rome, and the Middle Ages are considered.

Five recitation periods, weekly, for one term, are required of the scientific and post graduate classes.

The histories of Greece, Rome, and England are taken up and treated in much the same manner as the history of the United States.

W. A. STOCKING, JR., Instructor.

DEPARTMENT OF GYMNASTICS.

The system taught is the Swedish gymnastics. All students who complete a course for graduation are required to take regular lessons, for at least five terms, during the junior and senior years, unless excused on account of some organic disease. Gymnastic work is primarily for the weak, not for those already strong. The object is health rather than great muscular development.

Although the work is done in classes, special attention is paid to individual weaknesses. Students are requested to speak freely with the teacher concerning themselves that all may receive benefit and none injury from the work.

Gymnastics has its place in the school curriculum, not only for the improvement and maintenance of the health of the pupils, but also for its distinctive educational effects. The equal development of the cerebral hemispheres, the cultivation of concentrated attention, and of volition and courage, are possible to the teacher of educational gymnastics.

Each day's exercises will consist of introductions, arch flexions, heaving (hanging) movements, balance movements, shoulder blade movements, marching and running, abdominal exercises, lateral trunk movements, slow-leg movements, jumping and vaulting, respiratory exercises.

In addition to the practical work in the gymnasium, both seniors and juniors are instructed in the theory and method of gymnastics. Also teaching of gymnastics in the model school is required of seniors under the supervision of the teacher of gymnastics.

All pupils will be obliged to wear clothing suitable for the gymnasium—divided skirt and loose blouse for the ladies, and a negligee shirt for the men, and rubber soled shoes for all.

GRACE EUNICE BARNUM, Instructor.

DEPARTMENT OF THE ARTS.

Penmanship.

The time required of the preparatory class for penmanship is not specified. A definite amount of work must be accomplished.

The classes observe the following:

1. Suitable and healthful position of body.
2. A proper method of pen-holding.
3. A movement regular, and as free as is consistent with good form.
4. A neat and business-like arrangement of the matter written.

Due attention is given to proportions, classifications, analysis of letters, etc., and special drill lessons are given in movements and methods of teaching.

Besides the Spencerian system, instruction in the vertical system of penmanship has been introduced this year.

CAROLINE SHELDON, Instructor.

Bookkeeping.

It is our purpose to give the student such an understanding of the general principles of single entry bookkeeping as to enable him to make a practical use of the same in actual business transactions. The following course of study is followed:

1. A clear and definite idea of such terms as a business transaction, an account, debtor, creditor, resources, liabilities, net capital, net insolvency.
2. To be able to explain the use of a day-book, ledger, cash-book, order-book, sales-book, bill-book, check-book, and to readily and correctly record business transactions in these books.
3. To open and close an account.
4. To write and explain the use of all ordinary commercial paper, as orders, receipts, checks, drafts—commercial and bank, sight and time notes—negotiable and non-negotiable, and indorsements of same, statement of accounts, bill of goods.

For the first several lessons the student is required to rule his own books from plain paper. Each student is required to hand in a complete set of books written from exercises dictated by the teacher.

Exercises will also be given in business letter writing: (a) Ordering a bill of goods; (b) inclosing payment on account; (c) acknowledging the receipt of payment on or in full of account.

A. S. LENT, Instructor.

Drawing.

Five periods, weekly, of forty-five minutes each, for two terms, are required of the junior class in drawing.

The Prang system is taught. A plan of work for all grades is given and practiced. This plan includes the preliminary work of tablet and stick-laying, paper-folding and cutting, and clay modeling; also representation, decoration, and construction.

Representation is the drawing of the type solids and of objects based on them, of natural leaves and flowers, and of costumed life.

Decoration includes the drawing of simple units of design, arranged in borders, rosettes, and surface coverings, copying of historic ornament and decorative designs, and of elementary work in original design. Three mediums are used for this work, lead pencil, pen and ink, and water color,

Construction consists of working drawings of the type solids and of simple objects, of patterns of the solids and of the solids truncated, and of drawings in perspective of points, lines, planes and their applications, as represented in the drawings of railroads, floors, houses, etc. The preliminary work in construction is done free-hand, followed by exact work with the instruments.

Simultaneous with the work in form is the work in color. This consists in the acquiring of a knowledge of, and in the use of the six principal colors and their intermediates, in five tones of each. The Prang assortment of colored papers is used in this work.

Graduating Course in Art.

A special course in art has been arranged requiring three years' systematic study of two lessons per week of forty-five minutes each, or of two years' work of three lessons per week of forty-five minutes each.

A diploma is awarded to the students who complete this course. Students are required to take a thorough course in drawing before they are allowed to do any work in color. They are encouraged to become self-reliant by doing as much as possible for themselves.

Students may enter at any time and take such of the following branches of art as they may choose: Drawing from the antique, painting from the flat and still-life in oil and water colors, and sketching in pen and ink.

The school is well equipped with easels, drawing-boards, a fine assortment of casts from the antique and of studies for oil and water colors.

CAROLINE SHELDON, Instructor.

Music.

The students are required to pass a satisfactory examination in the elementary principles of vocal music.

A complete knowledge of all scales, keys, signatures, clefs, different kinds of measures, notes, rests, etc., is required. Much attention is given to ear training, writing intervals, singing intervals that are called for, and to the ability to be true hearers of music.

Easy children's songs, college songs, and some sacred songs are taught.

Graduating Course in Music.

Vocal.

The method employed in the instruction in vocal music, is a combination of the Italian and German methods. Particular attention is given to tone placing, correct breathing, true intonation, clear enunciation, and general artistic song rendering.

The pupils are encouraged to give a certain portion of their time to reading musical literature. The object of the course is to awaken a desire for accurate musical ability and an inspiration that will lead them to further advancement.

Pupils beginning vocal music are advised to arrange their time so as to take four or five short vocal lessons a week in place of one or two long lessons, as time spent alone is liable to be in some degree wasted.

When two students request it, lessons will be given them together as a class. This method has some advantages besides being less expensive. Each pupil receives individual attention one-half of the time, and has the opportunity of hearing the corrections or suggestions made to the other pupil. This is of value to the pupil who intends to teach as, in this way, he learns to correct errors other than his own.

Piano.

The method employed in the piano department is a combined form of the Virgil Clavier School, Mason's Touch and Technic, and Matthew's Graded Studies for the Piano. By the use of this method, the correct hand position on the keyboard is acquired, a good technic developed, rapid sight reading is attained, true musical feeling cultivated, and a foundation laid for a general musical education. The advanced pupils are carefully instructed in the work of the best composers, many of which works they are required to memorize. Since the aim of the music department is to prepare pupils for some public work, aside from mere teaching, all students are required to appear often at the weekly recitals. No pupil is allowed to graduate and receive the school's certificate unless competent to give a satisfactory recital in public.

Violin.

The method employed in violin instruction is a combination of French and German methods. Particular attention is given to an easy, correct hand position on the violin, a flexible, loose bowing as applied to both the wrist and arm, perfect intonation, breadth of tone and style, and general finish. The works of the best composers are studied and memorized with a view toward acquiring a good technic and true musical playing. Opportunities are given for ensemble playing, such as duo, trio, quartette, and obligato work.

THE WORK OF THE MODEL SCHOOL.

[The work here explained applies only to the first nine grades of the Model School. The course for the tenth and eleventh grades is identical with that of the Preparatory and Junior years of the Elementary Normal course, explained elsewhere.]

FIRST GRADE—FALL TERM.

The work of this term is based upon conversational lessons given upon objects. These lessons serve as a means of securing free expression of the child's thoughts by himself, also as material for reading. Psychological order of work; object presented, thought awakened by object, expression of thought orally, recognition of written expression, expression in reading from board. Number of words taught from 300 to 400.

WINTER TERM.

Transposition from script to print, from blackboard to book. Swinton's Primer read once. Cyr's Primer begun. Blackboard work continued.

SPRING TERM.

Cyr's Primer completed. Swinton's First Reader read once. Reading from board, nature quotations for the month; short poems and songs familiar to the child.

For those children who are under school age, and for those who enter late in the year, a class is organized which does not come under the name of first grade, but which is more properly called our Kindergarten Class. The work given to this class of children is in the same line as that of the first grade. The kindergarten material is applied in carrying out this work, and a good foundation is laid for entering upon regular school work.

SECOND GRADE—FALL TERM.

Review first grade books. Reading from blackboard short poems and stories.

WINTER TERM.

Readers:—"Our Little Book for Little Folks" read once. Cyr's First Reader read once. Blackboard work continued.

SPRING TERM.

Readers:—"Some of Our Friends." Cyr's First Reader read second time. Blackboard work continued.

THIRD GRADE—FALL TERM.

Review second grade books. Nature Reader,—“All the Year Round” Part I, Autumn. In connection with the Thanksgiving thought, “The Landing of the Pilgrims” by Mrs. Hemans, studied and read from the board.

WINTER TERM.

Nature Reader,—All the Year Round, Part II, Winter. Cyr's Second Reader read once. In connection with the Christmas thought, and the birthdays of Washington and Lincoln, selections are read from the board.

SPRING TERM.

Nature Reader,—All the Year Round, Part III, Spring: Swinton's Second Reader read once. Spring poems and nature quotations read from the board and committed.

FOURTH GRADE—FALL TERM.

Review Third Grade book. Reader,—Stories of Birdland. In connection with the Thanksgiving thought, selections from Mies Standish studied and read from the board.

WINTER TERM.

Cyr's Third Reader. Robinson Crusoe. Christmas poems for blackboard work.

Stories of the Red Children. Our Friends in Feathers and Furs.

FIFTH GRADE—FALL TERM.

The work in this grade shall begin with Swinton's Third Reader, “Wings and Fins” being introduced as supplementary reading during the latter part of the term.

The aim, in this grade, is to cultivate facility in the recognition of written thought, clear enunciation, and an appreciation of what may be learned by reading. An effort is made to cultivate a love for the best literature of the grade, and to strengthen the desire to read.

Pupils are taught to use the dictionary for pronunciation and definition of words. With this in view daily drills in phonetic analysis and diacritical markings are given.

WINTER TERM.

The work of the previous term continued.

Leaves from Nature's Story Book, Vol. I, used as reader.

SIXTH GRADE.

Work of Fifth Continued, using Swinton's Third Reader.

Leaves from Nature's Story Book, Vol. II.

American History Stories. (Pratt).

SEVENTH GRADE.

The dictionary work is extended, pupils being taught to use all departments, and regular study of the work given.

Phonetic drills and diacritical markings continued.

The effort to increase the love for good literature, and an appreciation of what is worth reading, is made throughout the course.

Books used in this grade are Swinton's Fourth Reader, Beginner's American History (Montgomery), How to Keep Well (Blaisdell).

EIGHT GRADE.

Method of seventh grade continued, using Swinton's Fourth Reader, Barnes' Primary History, Story of the Romans.

NINTH GRADE—FALL AND WINTER TERMS.

Swinton's Fifth Reader. Story of the English.

Hiawatha.

In this term a more critical study of the work is made, and a more thorough appreciation of the beauty of poetic expression is sought for.

Spelling.

FIRST GRADE.

No spelling is required during the first term. For winter and spring terms, words most familiar to a child in his reading and language lessons are chosen for spelling.

Methods—Children dictate the spelling of words for teacher to write. Teacher pronounces words, children spell orally, and put into sentences. Teacher spells words taken from the reading lessons, children pronounce after teacher spells. An exercise in written spelling, and a short drill in phonics and in the marking of words is given each day.

SECOND GRADE.

Words selected from other studies of the class spelled phonetically and written.

Special attention is given to the teaching and use of the diacritical marks.

THIRD AND FOURTH GRADES.

Same plan adopted as in second grade. From ten to fifteen words given for a lesson, every fifth lesson a review. Special attention given to care and neatness in writing.

In all grades above the fourth grade the spelling book is used. Careful attention is also given to spelling in all other subjects.

FIFTH GRADE—FIRST TERM.

Merrill's Word and Sentence Book to lesson 30, inclusive. The written method is used with occasional oral exercises. All dictation exercises are read by the teacher and carefully written by the pupil. New words are noted of which the meaning is taught. Particular attention is given to neat and legible penmanship. Every fifth lesson is a review. Pupils are drilled in the diacritical markings of letters and instructed in the use of the dictionary. Competitive exercises are encouraged.

SECOND TERM.

Merrill's Speller to lesson 70, inclusive.

THIRD TERM.

Merrill's Speller to lesson 90, inclusive. Also a general review from the first of the book.

SIXTH GRADE—FIRST TERM

Merrill's Speller from the beginning of the book to lesson 50, inclusive.

SECOND TERM.

Merrill's Speller from lesson 50 to lesson 80, inclusive.

THIRD TERM.

Merrill's Speller from lessen 80 to Part II.

SEVENTH GRADE—FIRST TERM.

Merrell's Speller to lesson 60.

SECOND TERM.

Merrill's Speller from lesson 60 to Part II.

THIRD TERM.

Merrill's Speller from Part II to lesson 170.

EIGHTH GRADE—FIRST TERM.

Merrill's Speller from the beginning to Part II.

SECOND TERM.

Merrill's Speller from Part II to lesson 180.

THIRD TERM.

Merrill's Speller from lesson 180 to Part III.

NINTH GRADE—FIRST TERM.

Merrill's Speller to Part II.

Merrill's Speller from Part II to Part III.

THIRD TERM.

Merrill's Speller from Part III to Part IV.

Writing.

FIRST GRADE.

Copy work only.

Pupils are taught to copy letters, words, short sentences and their own names from blackboard.

Quincy paper is used, and correct spacing taught from the first.

An effort is made to teach the children to keep good position, and to hold the pencil lightly and easily.

SECOND GRADE.

Drills on formation of letters.

Words, sentences, and paragraphs copied from board.

Method as in First Grade.

THIRD AND FOURTH GRADES.

Copying from blackboard on Quincy paper, letters, words, sentences, paragraphs, and stanzas of poetry.

Attention is given to position and to manner of holding the pencil.

Neat, open, legible work is aimed at.

FIFTH GRADE—FIRST TERM.

The lead pencil is used during this term. Considerable attention is given to freedom of movement, and the correct position of the body and manner of holding the pencil. The greater part of the work this term consists of movement exercises. Letters forming a basis for such exercises are given, as o, a, u, m, l, O, W, etc.

SECOND TERM.

Pupils will now be given pen and ink. Vertical System writing book No. 1 is used. Movement exercises. All new letters written on the board and explained each day.

SIXTH GRADE—FIRST TERM.

As in the preceding grade a considerable part of the time is devoted to exercises to enable the pupils to secure a free and easy movement, and a correct position of body. Vertical System writing book No. 2 to page 8.

SECOND TERM.

Vertical System writing book No. 2, completed. Movement exercises. Analysis of letters introduced.

SEVENTH GRADE—FIRST TERM.

Movement exercises. All new letters written in spaces and analyzed. Vertical System book No. 3 to page 10.

SECOND TERM.

A part of the period each day is devoted to writing all new letters in spaces and analyzing the same. Movement exercises. Vertical System writing book completed.

EIGHTH GRADE—FIRST TERM.

This year great attention is given to analysis of letters. Pupils are required to rule paper and make letters explained from the blackboard, then to make them without spaces, using a free and easy movement. Vertical System writing book No. 4 to page 10.

SECOND TERM.

Movement exercises and analysis of letters as in the preceding term. Vertical System writing book No. 4, completed.

NINTH GRADE—FIRST TERM.

Vertical System writing book No. 5 to page 10. Method as in preceding grade.

SECOND TERM.

Vertical System writing book No. 5, completed.

English.

FIRST GRADE—FALL TERM.

1. Oral work. Conversation lessons. Accustom children to talk freely and without hesitation. Lead them to use sentences describing actions, as I can run, you opened the door, etc. Use of place words, in, out, on, over, under, here, there, etc. Use of personal pronouns, I, you, he, his, hers, my, mine, etc. Object lessons; names of common objects, parts and uses. Reproduction of short stories illustrating truthfulness, gentleness, kindness, unselfishness, etc. Stories of people, Indians, Esquimauxs, Chinese, etc. Use of words from reading and other lessons in original sentences. All errors of speech corrected.

2. Written work. In connection with writing lessons only. Capitals; names of persons; first word of sentences. Punctuation; period and interrogation mark.

WINTER TERM.

1. Oral work. Work of first term continued. Pictures and objects described. Talks on common things, e. g., of what are houses built? Where the wood, brick, etc., come from. Rooms in a house; things used in the different rooms. Food and clothing; how obtained, etc.

2. Written work. Same as fall term.

SPRING TERM.

1. Oral work continued as in previous terms. Reproduction of stories and descriptions the principal feature of this term's work.

2. Written work the same as previous terms. Writing short sentences of their own without copy.

Language should be taught with all subjects. Pupils should be required to use complete statement in answer to questions, and to talk freely and correctly. All errors should be corrected in every recitation.

SECOND GRADE—FALL TERM.

1. Oral work. Reproduction of stories; descriptions of objects, pictures, etc., talks on common things, as food, clothing, shelter, etc. All errors of speech carefully corrected.

2. Written work. Confined to copying from blackboard. Capitals; proper names, beginning of sentences. Punctuation; period and interrogation point at close of sentences.

WINTER TERM.

1. Oral work. Continue work of first term. Object lessons, reproduction of stories and descriptions. Talks on common things and every-day surroundings and occurrences. Constant correction of errors of speech.

2. Written work. Writing sentences and short stories, in answer to questions and suggestions from teacher. Capital letters; proper names, beginning of sentences. Punctuation; period, interrogation mark and exclamation mark at close of sentence, and use of apostrophe.

SPRING TERM.

1. Oral work. Work of previous term continued, taking up nature stories adapted to the season.

3. Written work. Work of winter term continued; letter writing begun.

THIRD GRADE—FALL TERM.

1. Oral work. Drill in short simple sentences, as questions and answers. Drill for correction of negatives, as "I have none" for "I haint got none," etc. Drill on use of irregular and misused verbs with reference to form, e. g., I am writing a letter; you are writing; he has written; he wrote, etc. Reproduction of selected stories. Description of pictures, objects, etc. Careful correction of all errors in speech.

2. Written Work. Simple sentences, as questions and answers, etc. Reproduction of short stories, descriptions, etc., based on outline given by teacher. Letter writing; short letters to each other and to absent friends. Copy short poems and paragraphs. Capitals, proper names, and beginning of sentences. Punctuation, period, interrogation mark, exclamation mark, apostrophe; comma after words in direct address.

WINTER TERM.

1. Oral work. Work of last term continued using additional list of verbs.

2. Written Work. First term's work continued. Original work, stories of pictures and people, imaginary trips, visits, etc.

SPRING TERM.

1. Oral work. Continue work of previous term, increasing drill on correct forms.

2. Written work. Composition work exclusively. Stories, descriptions, letters, etc.

FOURTH GRADE—FALL TERM.

1. Oral work. Drill for correction of common errors as in third grade. Reproduction of stories and descriptions. Object and science lessons.

2. Written work. Composition work; reproduction of stories, description of objects, places, pictures, etc. Copy short poems and paragraphs. Capitals; all places where required in the work. Punctuation; as in third grade, adding quotation marks.

WINTER AND SPRING TERMS.

1. Oral work. Work of first term continued through the year. Conversations, descriptions, story-telling, etc. Special subjects assigned each half-term. Drills for correct usage and correction of errors.

2. Written work. Composition and letter-writing. Copy poems and short pieces from readers, etc.

FIFTH GRADE—FALL TERM.

Language lessons by Chas. DeGarmo, chapters 1 and 2. Book in hands of teacher only. Work given to pupils orally. Much oral work by pupils, as reproduction of stories, descriptions, narrations, etc.

WINTER TERM.

Chapter 3. Continue work of first term.

SPRING TERM.

Chapters 4. Composition and letter-writing. During this term the language work is given but three days each week, two days being given to the study of literature.

SIXTH GRADE—FALL TERM

DeGarmo's language lessons, chapters 5 and 6. Books in hands of pupils from the first. Follow plan of the book, increasing the amount of oral composition required of pupils.

WINTER TERM.

SPRING TERM.

Complete part 2. During this term language alternating with literature, giving language three days each week.

SEVENTH GRADE—FALL TERM.

DeGarmo's language lessons, part 3, chapters 1 and 2.

WINTER TERM.

Chapters 3 and 4.

SPRING TERM.

Part 3, completed. Language three days each week.

EIGHT GRADE—FALL TERM.

DeGarmo's language lessons, part 4, completed. A weekly exercise in oral reproduction or description is required. Original compositions are required not less frequently than once every two week.

WINTER TERM.

Oral and written composition continued as in fall term. Maxwell's introductory lessons in English grammar begun, chapters 1-12, inclusive. Under each topic, many exercises leading to original work to be brought in and the application of each point to common usage carefully considered.

SPRING TERM.

Language alternating with literature as in previous years. Maxwell's introductory lessons in English grammar, chapters 13-21, inclusive. Work of previous term continued.

NINTH GRADE—FALL TERM.

Maxwell's introductory lessons in English grammar, chapters 6-27, inclusive. Oral work and original composition work required as for eighth grade.

WINTER TERM.

Chapters 27-43, inclusive. Additional exercises under each topic selected from newspaper and magazine articles, readers, and from original productions of the class. Oral and original work continued as in fall term.

SPRING TERM.

Language three times each week alternating with literature. Maxwell's introductory lessons, completed. Additional exercises and original composition as in previous term.

Literature.

This subject is taught in connection with language and nature work. The pupils commit to memory short poems, some of which are especially adapted to the season, and special occasions incident to the season, as Christmas, Arbor Day, etc. Stories illustrative of gentleness, kindness, honesty, thoughtfulness, etc., are told with a view to their impression upon character. These stories are reproduced by the children as language work. Poems and stories are illustrated by the pupils on blackboard and on paper.

FIRST GRADE—FALL TERM.

Poems:—How the Leaves Come Down; The Little Fir Trees, O Pine Tree Green; The Birds Have Gone South.

Stories:—The Anxious Leaf; The Lion and the Mouse; Red Riding Hood; The Ant and the Grasshopper. Other stories are selected with special reference to the class.

WINTER TERM.

Poems:—The Shepherd and the Babe; Christmas Bells; The Baby; Pine Needles; The Miner.

Stories:—The Christmas Star; The Fir Tree; Elinor's Mine; Supper Time in the Barnyard; William Tell; Florence Nightingale.

SPRING TERM.

Poems:—Spring is the Morning of the Year; The Grass, first and second stanzas; The Dandelion; Be True.

Stories:—The Bird With No Name; The Proud Apple Branch; Why the Valley Lilies Hang Their Heads; Robin Redbreast's Visit, Story of the Flax.

Poems:—Who Taught the Spider; How the Corn Grows.

Stories:—The Pea Blossom; The Discontented Pine Tree; The Fox and the Grapes; Goldenrod and Asters.

WINTER TERM.

Poems:—The Months, Try Again; Take Care of the Minutes.

Stories:—The Tortoise and the Hare; The Crow and the Pitcher: Stories of Ulysses.

Poems:—The Grass; The Bluebell; Little by Little.

Stories:—The Wind and the Sun; The Ugly Duckling. Other poems and stories selected with reference to the class each term.

THIRD GRADE—SPRING TERM.

Twenty minutes taken for a lesson. Time given for the study of choice poems adapted to the grade. Our aim in giving this work is to elevate the child's taste to an appreciation of the best; to cultivate the imagination by leading him to paint word pictures in his own mind.

Method of carrying out the work; poems written upon the board. Stanza read by children. Teacher hears interpretations of the meaning given by different members of the class, and by questioning, corrects false interpretations and adds new beauties to the pictures already drawn. With paper and pencil the children illustrate by drawings the poem as pictured in their minds. Poems for the term are the following:—Father Time, Lucy Larcom; Every Day is a Fresh Beginning, Susan Coolidge; Songs of Seven, Seven Times One and Seven Times Two, Jean Ingelow; To the Fringed Gentian, Bryant.

FOURTH GRADE—SPRING TERM.

Aim and method same as for third grade. Poems:—Selections from Hiawatha; The Petrified Fern, Mary Bolles Branch; The Chambered Nautilus, Holmes.

Above the fourth grade this subject is taught during the spring term only. In grades 5-9, inclusive, one lesson period for two days of each week is devoted to this work. Poems are written upon the blackboard, copied and committed to memory by the pupils. Each thought or stanza is separately discussed, its meaning made clear, pictures described and lessons noted. Illustrations are drawn on blackboard and on paper.

FIFTH GRADE.

The Barefoot Boy, J. G. Whittier; Paul Revere's Ride, H. W. Longfellow; selections from Snowbound, J. G. Whittier.

SIXTH GRADE.

The Arrow and the Song, H. W. Longfellow; Freedom, Drake; King Robert of Sicily, H. W. Longfellow.

The Building of the Ship, H. W. Longfellow; Love of Country, Scott; selections from Miles Standish, H. W. Longfellow.

EIGHTH GRADE.

The Builders, H. W. Longfellow; Vision of Sir Launfal, Lowell; King Lear, Tales from Shakespeare, Lamb.

NINTH GRADE.

The Cloud, Shelley; Lines Written in Early Spring, Wordsworth; Merchant of Venice, Tales from Shakespeare, Lamb.

Arithmetic.

FIRST GRADE—WINTER TERM.

Teach numbers through six. Work chiefly constructive. The teaching of each number considered in the following order: 1. Develop a clear perception of the number. 2. Illustrate all possible combinations and separations, no sums, products, minuends, or dividends, larger than the number for consideration involved. 3. Equations written upon blackboard expressing the above combinations and separations. Pupils required to recite them from board, supplying the missing terms as they proceed, also to copy the same as busy work. Many original story problems whose conditions fit the facts in the above equations, are given by the children throughout the year.

FIRST GRADE—SPRING TERM.

Continue the teaching of numbers through ten. Method same as winter term. Problem work continued.

SECOND GRADE—FALL TERM.

Teaching of numbers through thirteen. Same general method as set forth in first year. This method does away with the actual studying of the tables, which are learned by continual practice in filling out the equations. Many concrete mental problems. Counting by twos, threes, fours and fives. Measurements; liquid measure, dry measure, and first two facts in long measure.

WINTER TERM.

Teaching of numbers through eighteen. Recognition of numbers to 100, developing units and tens. Process of addition of two-place numbers taught, the sum of no column exceeding nine. Process of subtraction in two-place numbers taught, where no figure in the subtrahend exceeds the corresponding figure in the minuend. Mental problems.

SPRING TERM.

Teaching of numbers through twenty. Teach notation and numeration to thousands. Teach tables of time and United States money. Teach how to write dollars and cents in connection with written problem work. Mental problems.

THIRD GRADE—FALL TERM.

Thorough review of second year's work. Beginning with twenty-one, continue the development of numbers through forty. Teach notation and numeration through four orders. Add columns of three-place numbers. Subtract three-place numbers.

WINTER TERM.

Teaching of numbers through sixty-five. Multiply with multipliers of one figure. Writing numbers in words with special attention to spelling and use of hyphen and comma. Many problems both for oral and written work given throughout the year.

SPRING TERM.

Teaching of numbers through 100. Multiply with multipliers of three figures. Short division. Teach notation and numeration through six orders. Review denominate numbers.

FOURTH GRADE—FALL TERM.

A thorough review of third year's work. Multiplication tables reviewed and completed. Short division continued. Study of square measure as applied in problems selected with a view to their usefulness. Notation and numeration through nine orders. Pupils required to picture the number before writing.

WINTER TERM.

Long division. Addition, subtraction, multiplication, division, and the terms of each defined for the first time. Many problems illustrating the application of dry measure, liquid measure, long and square measure, time measure, and avoirdupois weight.

SPRING TERM.

Practice of long division continued. Oral course in fractions illustrating simple reductions. Many reviews and tests given upon the work of the year, for the purpose of acquiring complete mastery of what has already been learned. Special attention is given to care and neatness of work done by the children throughout all grades.

FIFTH GRADE—FIRST TERM.

A thorough review of all the tables. Problems including the fundamental operations, the multiplier and divisor not to exceed four figures. Careful attention given to written analysis. A short period each day devoted to rapid oral exercises and to oral analysis.

SECOND TERM.

For the first time, the book is now put in the hands of the pupils. Milne's Elementary Arithmetic to factoring, with supplementary work. In all grades problems beyond the capacity of the pupils are omitted. Continue the review of the tables. Brief exercises in the fundamental operations for accurate and rapid work.

THIRD TERM.

Milne's Elementary Arithmetic to decimal fractions. Supplementary work.

SIXTH GRADE—FIRST TERM.

Milne's Elementary Arithmetic from the beginning to fractions. Supplementary work. Continue exercises to cultivate rapid and accurate work in the fundamental operations. Careful attention given to clear analysis.

SECOND TERM.

Milne's Elementary Arithmetic to U. S. money. Supplementary work. Exercises in rapid work and oral analysis continued.

THIRD TERM.

Milne's Elementary Arithmetic to percentage. Supplementary work.

SEVENTH GRADE—FIRST TERM.

Milne's Elementary Arithmetic. Review from beginning to denominate numbers. Give considerable supplementary work. Attention to neatness and form in all written work.

SECOND TERM.

Milne's Elementary Arithmetic completed. Supplementary work. Observe all oral work.

THIRD TERM.

Milne's Standard Arithmetic from beginning to fractions. Supplementary work.

EIGHTH GRADE—FIRST TERM.

Milne's Standard Arithmetic from division to decimal fractions. Supplementary work. Special attention is given throughout the year to careful analysis, and neatness of all written work.

SECOND TERM.

From decimal fractions to longitude and time, omitting problems that are beyond the capacity of the pupils. Supplementary work.

THIRD TERM.

Beginning at longitude and time, continue the work to percentage.

NINTH GRADE—FIRST TERM.

Beginning at fractions, review to denominate numbers. Supplementary work. All oral exercises observed. Special attention to all written work and accurate analysis as in preceding grades.

SECOND TERM.

Beginning at denominate numbers, continue to percentage. Supplementary work.

THIRD TERM.

From percentage to stocks and bonds.

Nature Study.

FIRST GRADE—FALL TERM.

Familiar talks on the following subjects: Things that come from the ground, as food, clothing, etc. Fog, clouds, autumn leaves, evergreen trees, roots of grasses, colors as seen in nature. Animals; fly, cow. Children are frequently taken out for walks and led to observe for themselves.

WINTER TERM.

Winter Notes; jack frost, snow, ice, evergreen trees, house-plants, colors in nature. Animals; sheep, kitten. Lessons on food; how and where obtained, how prepared, wholesome, etc. What houses are built of, how and where materials are obtained, rooms in a house, articles used in different rooms, etc.

SPRING TERM.

Spring lesson:—Parts of a plant, root, stem, branch, bud, leaf, blossom. Spring rains, sugar making. Pussy willow, fruit trees, buds and blossoms, colors in nature. Return of the birds, wild flowers, etc. Special lesson on dandelion, violet, maple, robin.

SECOND GRADE—FALL TERM.

Familiar talks on autumn topics, bringing materials into the classroom so far as possible. Outdoor observation is encouraged and pupils frequently go out for walks in order to study nature subjects more closely.

Topics: Fall flowers, ripening seeds, winter buds, evergreen trees, roots of grasses. Animals; fly, spider, bee, wasp.

WINTER TERM.

Shell fish; oyster, clam, conch, starfish, seaurchin, crab, etc. Lessons on wool, cotton, feathers, water, milk, tea, coffee.

SPRING TERM.

Plants; brief review of first grade topics. Bark; what it is, how it grows, strength, etc. Parts of a plant; root, stem, branch, bud, leaf, blossom, fruit, seed. Food for young plants. Seed planting. Special study of bean and pine. Return of the birds. Study of robin, bluebird, swallow.

THIRD GRADE—FALL TERM.

Autumn leaves and buds; ripening fruit; nuts, and seeds, protection of seeds; special lessons on corn, oak, apple, sunflower, thistle; watching the birds; effect of sun and frost on vegetation. Animals; grasshopper, squirrel.

WINTER TERM.

Incidental lessons connected with reading and geography.

SPRING TERM.

Seed planting and study of germination, plant corn, beans, peas, morning glory. Opening buds, food and growth. The following named trees noted and compared, as to general appearance, color and kind of bark, color and shape of leaves, blossoms, seeds, etc.—maple, elm, hickory, linden (basswood), pine.

FOURTH GRADE—FALL TERM.

Autumn changes in trees and vegetables. Collect specimens for study. Habits and uses of plants. Special lessons on sweet pea, goldenrod, aster, and milkweed. Dissemination of seeds; dandeloin, burdock, nuts, etc. Animals; preparation for winter.

WINTER TERM.

General lessons in connection with reading and geography. Special lessons on coal, iron, lime.

SPRING TERM.

Plants; comparison of trees continued; common shrubbery compared, as roses, lilac, currant, etc. Wild flowers; blue violet, hepatica, trillium. Specimens collected and habits studied. Animals; habits of birds, nesting, food, etc.

Beginning with the fifth grade, two lessons will be given each week. As the grades advance this subject becomes a more formal and technical study. The primary object of these lesson is to awaken an interest in things, and to establish habits of observation. The secondary object is to furnish the child with valuable information. The method is governed by the end to be attained and is substantially as follows: First, the pupils are encouraged to tell all they know about the object. Second, they are led to discover all they can for themselves, notes and outlines to be made of parts, uses, habits, etc. Third, the teacher adds anything that may be of interest and value to the class. Each lesson will close with a written story or description of the object. During the fall and spring terms, walks will be encouraged by pupils accompanied by teachers to make observations.

FIFTH GRADE—FIRST TERM.

Eagle, elephant, lion, sponge, coral.

SECOND TERM.

Paper, rubber, iron. coal,

Parts and shape of leaf; parts of flowers; names of common plants and trees; growth from seed to fruit traced.

SIXTH GRADE—FIRST TERM.

Native birds, ox, horse, whale.

SECOND TERM.

Gold, copper, silver, tin.

Name and description of parts of a plant, of a leaf, of a flower.

SEVENTH GRADE—FIRST TERM.

Spider, daddy-long-legs, grasshopper, beetle, examined and compared; snail and oyster compared.

SECOND TERM.

Cotton, leather, wool, silk.

THIRD TERM.

History of plant life, flower, fruit; seeds; differences in stems, roots, leaves.

EIGHTH GRADE—FIRST TERM.

Flies, butterflies, and moths; ants, wasps, and bees examined and compared.

SECOND TERM.

Common minerals compared with reference to form, color, hardness, structure.

THIRD TERM.

Review work of preceding grades; differences in flowers, fruits and seeds.

NINTH GRADE—FIRST TERM.

Varieties of mammals, as flesh-eaters, gnawers, cud-chewers, etc.; of birds, as climbers, birds of prey, swimmers, etc., described and compared.

THIRD TERM.

Review work of preceding years; uses of different parts of plants; analysis of at least four plants.

Geography.

FIRST GRADE—FALL TERM.

Preparation for geography in connection with language. 1. Place, (a.) Position; here, there, on, over, under, in, out, below, above, etc. (b.) Distance; inch, foot, actual measurements. (c.) Direction; right, left, cardinal points. 2. Stories. People of other lands; dress, food, shelter, modes of travel, etc. 3. Observation of and talks on sunshine, rain, fog, dew, frost. 4. Sand work; making hills and valleys, streets, houses and lots, etc. 5. Representative work; drawing on board and on paper, illustrating stories, etc. This work is continued through the year, with special arrangement of topics each half-term.

SECOND GRADE.

Continue preparation for geography as in first year, in connection with language. 1. Place. (a.) Position and direction, cardinal and semi-cardinal points. (b.) Distance; inch, foot, yard, rod, mile, actual measurements to rods. Table committed. (c.) Location of objects in classroom with reference to each other and with reference to pupils. 2. (a.) Stories; "Seven Little Sisters," "Children of the Cold," "Stories of the Red Children," etc. (b.) Shape of the earth in connection with stories. Begin use of globe. 3. Talks on sunshine, dew, frost, rain, snow, etc. Note change of seasons. 4. Draw plan of schoolroom and chapel to scale. Conversation on questions like the following: Where do we get oranges? Why do they not grow here? What does grow in our orchards? Where do we get sugar, tea, coffee, etc.? Of what are houses built? Where boards come from? nails? bricks? etc.

THIRD GRADE—FALL TERM.

1. Review briefly work of grades one and two with additional stories of people, mode of life, etc. 2. The earth. (a.) Surface composed of land and water. (b.) By observation of natural surroundings and use of sand and blackboard teach the following: 1. Hill; base, slope, summit. 2. Mountain; system, range, base, slope, summit, peak, volcano. 3. Plain; fields, woods, meadow, swamp, prairie, desert. 4. Coast; beach, cliff, cape, peninsula, isthmus. 5. River; source, branches, banks, bed, water-fall, mouth. 6. Waters; sea, gulf or bay, harbor, strait. 3. Continue measurements. 4. Draw classroom, scale one inch to the foot. 5. Talks on sun; position at different hours of the day, change of positions as season advances. Effect of this change on temperature and vegetation.

THIRD GRADE—WINTER TERM—FIRST HALF.

1. (a) The earth. (b) Productions; the land produces plants, animals and minerals; specify. The water produces plants, animals and minerals, sea-weeds, fish, sponges, coral, salt, etc. (c) Motions; cause of day and night. (d) Zones; warm, temperate and cold parts of the earth. Describe warm and cold countries, emphasizing difference in people, plants and animals that live there. (e) Draw map of village (Mansfield), locating principal streets, important buildings, park, river, railroad, etc. Teach occupations, necessity for good government, history, etc. Teach names of chief thoroughfares, their direction and towns to which they lead.

WINTER TERM—LAST HALF AND SPRING TERM.

Long's Home Geography read in class, talked over, and several points developed.

FOURTH GRADE—FALL TERM.

1. Review briefly the work of grade three. 2. The earth; shape, size, motions. How much land surface, water surface. Division into hemispheres. Continents and oceans; which continent our home. Races of mankind, homes of each. Races that have lived in North America. Christopher Columbus; why England and Spain are interesting to us. How eastern continent is useful to us. Why interesting to us. Journeys; from Mansfield to the sea in each direction across ocean, etc.

WINTER TERM—FIRST HALF.

Tioga county; draw map, teach points on county, as its name (Indian), first white settlers, occupations, rivers, railroads, townships, county seat, etc. Talks on Pennsylvania.

LAST HALF WINTER TERM AND SPRING TERM.

Brooks and Brook Basins. First eight chapters read and talked about in class and general lessons developed. Incidental reviews of work already gone over.

FIFTH GRADE—FALL TERM.

Brief review of Tioga county and Mansfield. Swinton's Introductory Geography, pages 1 to 29 inclusive. Pictures and maps studied, and advance lessons read by pupils and thoroughly talked over in class. Map drawing; zones, hemispheres, continents, and North America, showing three great physical divisions.

WINTER TERM.

Pages 30 to 47 inclusive. Method same as last term. Chapters 1 to 5 inclusive Brooks and Brook Basins illustrated freely on board and paper. Frequent reviews and incidental lessons and stories that add interest to the study.

SPRING TERM.

Page 48 to 63 inclusive. General reviews. Complete Brooks and Brook Basins. Method as previous terms.

SIXTH GRADE—FALL TERM.

Natural Elementary Geography. Begin with page 23, North America, to page 40, sections of United States. Method as for fifth grade. Illustrate freely on blackboard and paper, e. g.: Illustrate river system, divide or water-parting, spring, etc. Map drawing; countries, sections, states, surface, rainfall, etc.

WINTER TERM.

Page 40, sections of United States, to page 63, minor countries of North America. Method as preceding term.

SPRING TERM.

Page 63, minor countries to page 72, South America. Method as previous term. State of Pennsylvania studied by the following outline: Draw progressive map; first outline, then fill in as topics are studied. Topics: 1. Position in United States, boundaries. 2. Countries; number, names, position. 3. Surface. 4. Drainage. 5. Climate. 6. Soil, productions. 7. Occupations. Bring out strongly the relation between surface and drainage; relief and climate; climate and productions; the physical features of a country and occupations of people. 8. Commerce, routes of travel. 9. Cities. 10. Government, education. 11. Brief history.

SEVENTH GRADE—FALL TERM.

Natural Elementary Geography. Begin with South America, page 72, and take to British Isles, page 93. Incidental reviews and comparisons. Method as in sixth grade. Careful reading and discussion of lesson, maps and pictures. Map drawing and illustrations.

WINTER TERM.

Page 93 to page 114. Method as preceding term.

Complete book. Method as before.

EIGHTH GRADE—FALL TERM.

Swinton's Grammar School Geography supplemented by Nichol's Topics in Geography. Beginning with Swinton's geography take to Middle Atlantic States, page 34. Follow method of topics in geography adding points from this book to lessons of the other.

WINTER TERM.

Same book to South America, page 62.

SPRING TERM.

To Asia, page 86. Advance lessons are always talked over, important points noted and discussed, maps, pictures, and illustrations studied in class. All maps carefully drawn.

NINTH GRADE—FALL TERM.

Swinton's Grammar School Geography. Nichol's Topics in Geography. Beginning with page 86 (Swinton's Geography), take to Oceanica, page 102.

WINTER TERM—FIRST HALF.

Complete Swinton's Geography.

LAST HALF WINTER AND SPRING TERM.

Review by topics as in Nichol's Topics in Geography.

METHOD FOR THE YEAR.

Discussion of advance lessons. Blackboard and pencil illustrations. Map-drawing. Frequent reviews. Comparison of all countries with United States.

Physiology.

FIRST GRADE.

The work covered during the year is as follows: Name and locate parts of the body; head, neck, trunk, and limbs. Use and care of each part. Adaptation of parts to use. Joints give freedom of motion. Right uses, e. g., kindness shown by hands, feet, lips; helpfulness by strong hands and limbs; lips that tell the truth, and say no when asked to do wrong, etc. Care of teeth, hair, nails, ears, nose, eyes, skin; emphasize cleanliness and neatness. All lessons given orally by the teacher. Reference books,—Health for Little Folks, Object Lessons on the Human Body.

SECOND GRADE.

Objects Lessons on the Human Body, parts 1, 2, 3, 4. Simple lessons on eating, drinking, breathing, sleeping. Wholesome foods and drinks. Self control in eating and drinking. Ventilation, draughts, colds, etc. Hours of retiring and rising. Value of regular sleep. What is learned through the senses. Right uses of parts of the body. All work given orally. Reference books same as for first grade.

THIRD GRADE.

Review briefly work of second grade. Object Lessons on Human Body; parts 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, given orally by teacher. What we eat and drink; flesh-making foods, heat-giving foods, water, why we need it. Hygiene; care of teeth, eyes, ears, nose, throat, nails, hair, hands, feet, etc.

FOURTH GRADE.

Child's Book of Health read and discussed in class. Points of each lesson thoroughly learned by the children. Frequent reviews bringing in work of previous year.

FIFTH GRADE—THIRD TERM.

Oral lessons on the human body, its several parts, the uses of each part and how to care for it. The subject is taught as far as possible as an object lesson. Pupils are furnished with note-books to take such facts as are designated by the teacher. The injurious effects of alcohol and narcotics are carefully taught.

SIXTH GRADE—THIRD TERM.

Smith's Primer Physiology is read. The method observed is about the same as in teaching a reading lesson. Lessons are regularly assigned, read, and thoroughly discussed.

SEVENTH GRADE—THIRD TERM.

Blaisdell's How to Keep Well is read. The method used is the same as used in the preceding year.

EIGHTH GRADE—THIRD TERM.

Smith's Elementary Physiology. In this grade the subject is taught as a regular branch. Lessons are regularly assigned and recited. The subject is illustrated by charts etc., and all drawings of different parts of body are observed and copied by pupils.

NINTH GRADE—THIRD TERM.

Smith's Elementary Physiology. Lessons regularly assigned and recited as in preceding grade. Attention given to outlines, also to all drawings.

History.

SEVENTH GRADE—FIRST TERM.

Montgomery's Beginner's History is read. Method used is the same as in teaching reading.

EIGHTH GRADE—FIRST TERM.

Barnes' Primary History is also used as a reader in this grade. Pupils are carefully questioned on the thought. All important events and facts of interest are emphasized and frequently reviewed. An effort is made to bring out all moral lessons by allowing open and free discussion in which all pupils are encouraged to take part.

Music.

The vocal work in the model school is taught by the seniors under the supervision of the Normal teacher of vocal music. The seniors are fitted for this work during their junior year and in addition to this training they meet the vocal teacher every week for suggestions and help in the lesson for the week. The music in the model school is taught according to the American chart system. The aim of this department is to give the child a foundation for accurate and rapid sight reading, correct knowledge of time in its less complicated forms, a musical ear and a repertoire of appropriate children's songs. During commencement week the model school gives some form of musical entertainment.

Drawing.

The plan of work for drawing in the model school is essentially the same as that given and practiced in the classes in the Normal department. The preliminary work of paper folding and cutting, stick laying and clay modeling is confined to the primary grades. The work of drawing in these grades consists in outline work of the views and appearance of the type solids and objects based on them, some work from leaves and flowers and the drawing of simple units of design and their use in easy decorative arrangements. In the advanced grades the work from the type solids and objects is done in light and shade. The work in construction is done with instruments. Difficult sprays of leaves and flowers and sketching from life are introduced. Historic, decorative and original designs are drawn in black and white, and color.

Gymnastics.

A period of ten minutes each day is devoted to gymnastics in all the grades excepting the first. The method taught is the same that is used in the Normal gymnasium, though adapted to the school room. Tables of exercises are taken from Baron Nils Posse's Hand-book of School Gymnastics. Each room is visited at least once a week by the gymnastic teacher, when she either takes the class or observes and criticises the lesson given.

FINAL EXAMINATIONS AND DIPLOMAS.

Rules for admission to the Junior and Senior classes in the Elementary course.

1. Admission to the Senior and Junior classes shall be determined by the State Board of Examiners at the annual examination by the Board.

2. In order to be admitted to the Junior class at any State Normal School, persons must be examined in the six Preparatory branches named and no others; and the examinations in these branches shall be final. Those who for any reason were unable to complete the Preparatory examination, may be admitted to both the Preparatory and the Junior examinations at the end of the Junior year. But they must be classed as Preparatory students till the final examination in the Preparatory branches has been completed. No substitutions or conditions shall be allowed for any of the studies required for admission to the Junior class.

3. In order to be admitted to the Senior class, persons must be examined in all the Junior studies, except Methods, and the examination in these branches shall be final. No substitutions or conditions shall be allowed for any of the studies required for admission to the Senior class.

4. If the faculty of any State Normal School, or the Board of Examiners, decide that a person is not prepared to pass an examination by the State Board, he shall not be admitted to the same examination at any other State Normal School during the same school year.

5. If a person who has completed the Preparatory or the Junior studies at any State Normal School desires to enter another State Normal School, the Principal of the school at which the examination was held shall send the proper certificate to the Principal of the school which the person desires to attend. Except for the reason here stated, no certificate setting forth the fact of the passing of the Preparatory or the Junior studies shall be issued.

6. Candidates for graduation shall be examined in all the branches of the Senior year. They shall have the opportunity of being examined in any of the higher branches, including vocal and instrumental music and double entry bookkeeping; and all studies completed by them shall be named in their certificate.

7. Persons who have been graduated in any course may be examined at any State examination in any branches of a higher course, and the Secretary of the Board of Examiners shall certify, on the back of their diplomas, to the passing of the branches completed at said examination.

8. A certificate setting forth the proficiency of all the applicants in all the studies in which they desire to be examined by the State Board of Examiners, shall be prepared and signed by the faculty and presented to the Board.

Rules relating to Certificates and Degrees:

1. Students who have completed any one of the foregoing courses shall receive a certificate or diploma authorizing them to teach in the public schools of the State two years without examination.

2. Persons who have completed any one of the foregoing courses and have taught two full annual school terms since graduation, shall receive a certificate or diploma, authorizing them to teach in the public schools of Pennsylvania without further examination, provided that they present to the faculty and Board of Examiners a certificate of good moral character and skill in the art of teaching from the Board, or Boards of Directors, by whom they were employed, countersigned by the proper Superintendent.

3. Degrees shall be conferred as follows:

To graduates in the Regular Normal Course, the degree of Bachelor of Elementary Pedagogics (B. E. P.); after two years' successful teaching, the degree of Master of Elementary Pedagogics (M. E. P.)

To graduates in the Scientific Course, the degree of Bachelor of Science (B. S.); after two years' successful teaching, the degree of Master of Elementary Pedagogics (M. E. P.) Graduates of the Scientific Course who have engaged in scientific, literary or professional pursuits, at least three years after graduation, may receive the degree of Master of Science (M. S.)

To graduates in the Advanced Normal Course, the degree of Bachelor of Pedagogics (B. P.); after two years' successful teaching after completing this course or in the Scientific Course, the degree of Master of Pedagogics (M. P.)

EXPENSES.

Tuition in all branches, with board, including heat, lighting, room rent, washing, twelve pieces a week, $63.00 per term, or $189 per year. No extras. The first payment, $40.00, is to be made on the first day of the term; the second payment, $23.00, to be made at the middle of the term.

Tuition, without board, including all branches above, $14.00 per term, or $42.00 per year. The first payment, $7.00, to be made the first day of the term; the second payment, $7.00, to be made the middle of the term.

Students who do not live at home with parents or guardians will be required to board in the institution unless special arrangements are made with the Principal to board elsewhere.

The total expenses for the year are $189. When students avail themselves of State appropriations (see next page), the expenses are reduced for the Junior year to $169 and for the Senior year to $119.

With a view of discouraging a too prevalent desire to make rapid advancement, which is always inconsistent with good scholarship, tuition will be reduced from $14.00 to $7.00 per term to students who are under seventeen years of age, and who take, during the year, only the studies of the Preparatory year. See Course of Study, page 21.

The rates for special instruction in Art, Elocution, or Music, are as follows:

For a term of thirteen or fourteen weeks, two lessons a week, . . . $12.00

For a term of thirteen or fourteen weeks, one lesson a week, . . . 6.00

For a term of less than thirteen weeks, two lessons a week, $1.00 a week

For a term of less than thirteen weeks, one lesson a week, . . . 50 a week

When two or more students desire to take lessons at the same time, in a class, the cost to each student is reduced 25 per cent.

Harmony and Counterpoint, in class, two lessons a week, . . $3.00 a term

Rent of Piano, for periods of 45 minutes daily, 1.00 a term

The student may make up lessons lost by unavoidable absence, in case the teacher is notified of the absence beforehand.

Deduction will be made to students absent from school two consecutive weeks or more on account of sickness or other satisfactory reasons. No deduction will be made to students entering within the first two weeks, or leaving within the last two weeks, of a term. For the special term for teachers, beginning April 30, students will be charged according to the above rates for the time they are actually in attendance. All bills must be settled with the Treasurer.

By an act of the legislature, the following appropriations are made by the State to Normal students and Normal graduates:

1. Each student over 17 years of age, who shall sign a paper declaring his intention to teach in the common schools of the State, shall receive fifty cents a week.

2. Each student who, upon graduation, shall sign an agreement to teach in the common schools of the State two full school years, shall receive the sum of fifty dollars. (This State aid for the year 1899-1900, may not be paid.)

3. Any student to secure this benefit must attend the school at least twelve consecutive weeks, and he must receive regular instruction in the science and art of teaching in a special class devoted to that object for the whole time such an allowance is drawn.

In case of a deficiency in the amount appropriated by the legislature for the State aid for students, each student will receive his proportionate share of the appropriation.

Gentlemen's rooms are furnished with heat, light, dressing case with mirror, chairs, tables, stands, pails, bedsteads, mattresses, pillows, and one comfortable.

Ladies' rooms are furnished with heat, light, carpet, two rockers, chairs, tables, and bedroom set complete, pillows and one comfortable. Mirror on dressing case.

Students furnish wash-bowls and pitchers, napkins, towels, pillow-slips, sheets and one comfortable. The last article enumerated, together with all articles of clothing, should be distinctly marked with full name.

Students have the privilege of renting text-books at a nominal rate.

Libraries.

A good circulating library, catalogued after the most modern and improved plan, is open daily to all students, free of charge. All students have access at any time to a large reference library.

Reading Room.

One of the large and pleasant corner rooms of the gymnasium building is used for a reference library and reading room. The room is supplied with cyclopædias and other books of reference, and all the best magazines published in the country, besides many of the best weekly and daily papers. The room is open at stated hours every day of the week.

The reading room is furnished and managed by the Reading Room Association, which comprises most of the faculty and students of the entire school.

The Association elects officers on the first Friday of each term.

Apparatus and Cabinet.

Literary Societies.

There are six literary societies: The Athenæan, Normal Literary, Philalethean, Agonian, Delphic, and Clionian.

The Athenæan and Normal Literary societies are composed of both men and women. They have finely furnished rooms and good libraries. The Philalethean society is composed of men, and is a chapter of the Philalethean fraternity. The Agonian society is composed of women and is a chapter of the Agonian fraternity. The Delphic society is composed of men, and is a chapter of the Delphic fraternity. The Clionian society is composed of women and is a chapter of the Clionian fraternity.

Lectures and Entertainments.

Lecture courses of a high order of excellence are maintained by the literary societies, and by the Y. M. C. A. Many scientific and popular lectures are given with the aid of the stereopticon. Frequent literary and musical entertainments are given by the Music Department, and by the literary societies.

The Alumni Association.

This is an organization of the graduates of the school from all the courses.

The Association holds an annual business meeting on Wednesday morning of commencement week. The annual banquet of the Association is given by the school in the dining hall, which will accommodate five hundred guests, on Wednesday afternoon, and the annual literary exercises of the Association are held in Alumni Hall Wednesday evening.

A list of the officers and members of the Association is printed in the back part of this catalogue.

Religious Associations.

The Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. have organizations of the students which maintain weekly religious meetings.

Athletic Association.

The Mansfield Normal School Quarterly.

The Mansfield Normal School Quarterly was started two years ago. The first number of Volume III will be issued after the commencement of 1899. The Quarterly is beautifully printed and finely illustrated. Its aim is to supply the alumni, undergraduates, and other friends of the school with intelligence of the news, the progress, and the improvements made in the school.

Special Term for Teachers.

To accommodate many teachers who desire to enter school in the spring, a special term and programme will be arranged to begin April 30, 1900. Much attention will be given during the special term to school management and methods of teaching.

Prizes and Honors.

For excellence in scholarship, during the year 1899-1900, four prizes are offered as follows:

1. A prize of $25 for the highest average standing in all the subjects of the Senior year in the Elementary course, limited to undergraduates. This year this prize was awarded to Miss Stella T. Doane, of Mansfield, Pa.
2. A prize of $10 for the second highest average standing in all the subjects of the Senior year in the Elementary course, limited to undergraduates. This year this prize was awarded to Newcomb G. Parke, of Montrose, Pa.
3. A prize of $25 for the highest average standing in all the subjects of the Junior class in the Elementary course. This year this prize was awarded to Miss May Borden, of Arnot, Pa.
4. A prize of $10 for the second highest average standing in all the subjects of the Junior class in the Elementary course. This year this prize was awarded to Ray G. Patterson, of East Lemon, Pa.

Gold medals are offered to the members of the Senior class for excellence in oratory and original composition. This year the prize in oratory was awarded to Joseph A. Mosher, of Mansfield, Pa., and the prize in original composition to Miss F. Mabel Jenks, of Cherry Creek, N. Y.

LOCATION, BUILDINGS AND GROUNDS.

The Normal School buildings present a noble and imposing aspect. The school grounds have an area of ten acres. The lawns about the buildings are beautifully laid out and covered with a great variety of forest trees.

South Hall.

This is a brick structure, one hundred fifty feet in length by fifty feet in width. In this building are the men's dormitories, the circulating library, chapel, six recitation rooms, and the text-book library. This building, formerly the old seminary, was enlarged and remodeled in 1889. One hundred fifty feet North, and the same distance East, of South Hall, stands the North Hall.

This building is in process of complete reconstruction. The cut represents it as it will be, when finished, one of the finest school buildings in the country. It is two hundred seventy feet long by one hundred feet wide, and five stories high. It contains the Principal's office, dormitories for the women, reception rooms, suits of rooms for the Art and Music departments, an elegant dining room large enough to seat five hundred, an elevator, the kitchen, bakery, etc. Two stories of an ell, completely removed from the other rooms, are set apart as an infirmary. They are furnished with every appliance for the sick. The dormitories on every floor of both buildings are supplied with bath tubs and everything needed for health and comfort. All the buildings are heated by steam, lighted by electricity, and supplied with fire escapes of the best construction. The cost of the North building when completed and furnished, will not be less than $150,000. Midway between the North and the South buildings is

Alumni Hall.

This is a brick building, fifty-four by one hundred seventeen feet, three stories high. It contains the Model School rooms, recitation rooms, the society rooms, and a concert hall which occupies one entire story. This building was completed in 1886 at a cost of $25,000. In the rear of the South building stands the gymnasium.

Gymnasium.

This is a fine structure; it is a frame building, fifty by one hundred thirty feet. It contains a large drill hall, fifty by one hundred feet, and four spacious rooms adjoining, for library and reading room, and for dressing rooms. The drill hall is well furnished with apparatus. This building was erected in 1888 at a cost of $7,000.

HOW TO REACH MANSFIELD.

Mansfield is thirty-six miles from Elmira via the Erie railroad; twenty-seven miles from Corning via Pennsylvania Division of the New York Central and Erie railroads; twenty-three miles from Wellsboro via Pennsylvania Division of the New York Central railroad from Wellsboro to Lawrenceville, and thence via Erie railroad, or twelve miles from Wellsboro by stage; sixteen miles from Troy, on the Northern Central railroad, by stage; and ten miles from Blossburg via Erie railroad.

Students coming via Northern Central railroad may take stage at Roaring Branch for Blossburg, thence to Mansfield by railroad, or take stage at Troy direct to Mansfield, or keep the railroad via Elmira. Passengers from the East, by the Erie, change cars at Elmira; by the Lehigh Valley, change at Waverly, thence to Elmira by the Erie; by the D., L. & W., change at Elmira, thence by the Erie to Mansfield. Students coming from the West on the Erie or D., L. & W. railroads, change cars at Elmira. Students coming from the West and South by the Pennsylvania Division of the New York Central railroad, change at Tioga or Lawrenceville.

All baggage should be distinctly marked with the name of the owner, and "STATE NORMAL SCHOOL," to insure its being brought to the Normal buildings. Whenever baggage is to be taken to the station, it should be marked with the name and destination of the owner.

COURSES OF STUDY.

ELEMENTARY COURSE.

Preparatory Studies.

LANGUAGE.—Orthography; Reading; Grammar, first and second terms.

MATHEMATICS.—Arithmetic, first and second terms.

NATURAL SCIENCE.—Nature Study; Physiology and Hygiene.

HISTORICAL SCIENCE.—Geography, political and physical; History of the United States.

THE ARTS.—Penmanship, sufficient to be able to explain some approved system, writing to be submitted to the Board of Examiners; Bookkeeping, single entry including a knowledge of common business papers, and a daily exercise for at least seven weeks; Vocal Music, elementary principles and attendance upon daily exercises for at least twelve weeks.

PHYSICAL CULTURE.

Junior Year.

PEDAGOGICS.—School Management; Method of Teaching the Common Branches.

LANGUAGE.—English Grammar completed; Latin, sufficient for the introduction of Cæsar.

MATHEMATICS.—Arithmetic completed; Elementary Algebra.

NATURAL SCIENCE.—Botany.

HISTORICAL SCIENCE.—Civil Government.

THE ARTS.—Drawing, a daily exercise for at least twenty-four weeks, work to be submitted to the Board of Examiners.

PHYSICAL CULTURE.

Senior Year.

PEDAGOGICS.—Psychology; Methods of Teaching the Common Branches; History of Education; Model School Work, at least twenty weeks of actual teaching daily during one period of not less than forty-five minutes; a thesis on a professional subject.

LANGUAGE.—Rhetoric and Composition; English Literature, at least twelve weeks' work, including the thorough study of four English classics; Latin, Cæsar, through the Helvetian war.

MATHEMATICS.—Plane Geometry.

NATURAL SCIENCE.—Elementary Natural Philosophy.

HISTORICAL SCIENCE.—General History.

PHYSICAL CULTURE.

(THREE YEARS.)

[This course includes the studies of the Elementary Course, and the following branches: A full equivalent will be accepted for any of the text-books named in this course.]

PEDAGOGICS.—Advanced Psychology; Moral Science; Philosophy of Education; Methods of Teaching; Practice of Teaching; Pedagogical Works; Froebel, Education of Man; Quick, Educational Reformers; Fitch, Lectures on Teaching; School Apparatus; School Supervision; Discussion of Manual Training; Physical Culture, etc.

MATHEMATICS.—Solid Geometry; Plane and Analytical Trigonometry; Surveying.

NATURAL SCIENCE.—Chemistry, including Chemistry of Soils; Zoology, including Entomology; Geology.

LITERATURE.—Higher Literature, English and American, including a study of at least four classics.

SCIENTIFIC COURSE.

(FOUR YEARS.)

PEDAGOGICS.—Logic; Course of professional Reading selected from regular or advanced Normal Course; a thesis on a professional subject.

LANGUAGE.—Latin, three books of Virgil's Æneid; three orations of Cicero, or a full equivalent. (An equivalent of Greek, German or French will be accepted for any of the following studies: Virgil, Cicero, Higher Algebra, Spherical Trigonometry, Surveying, Analytical Geometry, Calculus, Mathematical Natural Philosophy, and Mathematical Astronomy, and an equivalent in Latin, and advanced work in Natural Science for any of the foregoing mathematical studies.)

MATHEMATICS.—Higher Algebra; Spherical Trigonometry and Surveying, with use of instruments; Analytical Geometry; Differential and Integral Calculus.

NATURAL SCIENCE.—Higher Natural Philosophy; Astronomy, Descriptive and Mathematical.

HISTORICAL SCIENCE.—English History; Grecian History; Roman History.

ADVANCED NORMAL COURSE.

(FIVE YEARS.)

[This course includes the studies of the Scientific Course, and one year's additional work in Pedagogics, as follows: A full equivalent will be accepted for any of the text-books in the course.]

PSYCHOLOGY.—James, Advanced Course.

Discussion of Methods and Objects of Leading Educators; Frœbel, Pestalozzi, Dr. Arnold, Horace Mann, and others.

Discussion of Educational Theories.

Education in the United States; Education in Pennsylvania, Wickersham; General Survey of History of Public Education in Germany, France, and England.

Advanced work in Language, Mathematics, Natural Sciences, etc., may be taken at the option of the student.

SPECIAL COURSES OFFERED.

COLLEGE PREPARATORY COURSES.

[These courses have been instituted by this school for the benefit of students who desire to pursue a course of study at the college or university, and they require from one to two years after completing the Elementary Course. Students who complete these courses are admitted without examination, to Cornell University, Lafayette College, Bucknell University, and Pennsylvania State College.]

1. Preparatory to Classical Course.

HISTORY.—History of the United States; Outlines of Roman History; Outlines of Grecian History.

PHYSIOLOGY.—Martin's Text Book complete, or the equivalent.

MATHEMATICS.—Arithmetic; Algebra through Quadratics; Plane Geometry.

GREEK.—Greek Grammar and Reader; Xenophon's Anabasis, four books; Homer's Iliad, three books; Greek Prose Composition.

2. Preparatory to Latin Scientific Course.

This course is the same as the Classical Course, except that for Greek, German, and Elementary Physics are substituted.

3. Preparatory to a Technical Course.

HISTORY.—History of the United States; General History.

PHYSIOLOGY.—Martin's Text Book complete, or the equivalent.

COURSE IN AGRICULTURE.

History of Agriculture; care and management of live stock; cattle feeding; stock breeding; dairying, composition and production of milk, butter and cheese; poultry culture; the more common diseases of farm animals, their treatment and prevention; soils, tillage and farm tools; drainage and irrigation, farm manures and commercial fertilizers, their comparative value and adaptation to various crops; fruit culture; vegetable gardening; insects and diseases injurious to farm crops, with methods of treatment and prevention; nature study, embracing field-work for observation and study of common objects, such as stones, twigs, leaves, flowers, birds, insects, and the like.

COURSE IN ART.

Elementary and Freehand Drawing is taught as a regular branch in the Elementary Course.

Special Art Classes.

FIRST YEAR.

Freehand drawing with lead pencil or charcoal from the type solids, and objects based on them. Designs in relief from cast; fragments of the antique from cast; painting in monochrome from still life; painting of flowers and landscape from the flat in oil and water colors; pen and ink work from objects and copies; sketching from nature in the spring; sketching from costumed life once a week.

SECOND YEAR.

Freehand drawing of heads from the antique, with lead pencil or charcoal; painting of figures from the flat in oil and water colors; pen and ink work from objects; sketching from costumed life; sketching from nature in the fall and spring.

THIRD YEAR.

Freehand drawing of the full length figure from the antique; more advanced work in painting from still life in oil and water colors; sketching from costumed life in pen and ink; elementary work in designing wall paper, book covers, etc.; painting from nature in oil and water colors; illustrating.

Besides the studies here named, every candidate for graduation in this course must pass satisfactory examination in the subjects of the Preparatory and Junior classes of the Elementary Course or their equivalent, with the exception of Bookkeeping, Algebra, and Latin. German may be substituted for Civil Government, and for a part of the course in Arithmetic.

This course is laid out on the basis of three years' time, with two lessons a week, for a student of ordinary talent and with reasonable application. Students who show more than ordinary talent or who increase the number of lessons per week, may shorten the time, as advancement is determined by what is really accomplished rather than by time spent.

COURSES IN MUSIC.

There are three courses in music: The course in Piano, the course in Violin, and the course in Singing. Students may receive a diploma on completing any course.

Studies Required in All the Courses.

The study of Harmony, the History of Music, and practice in reading music at sight, are required in all the courses. Also, before graduation from either course, the student must pass satisfactory examinations in the subjects of the Preparatory and Junior Classes of the Elementary Course, with the exception of Bookkeeping, Algebra, and Latin. German may be substituted for Civil Government and for a part of the course in Arithmetic.

Studies Required in Each Course.

Besides the studies named as required in all the courses, the following studies, or their full equivalent, will be required in each course for graduation. These courses are laid out upon the basis of three years' time, with two lessons a week, for a student of ordinary talent and with reasonable application.

To students who show more than ordinary capacity for improvement, the length of time or the number of lessons may be reduced, as students will be advanced and graduated according to what they accomplish rather than to the number of lessons taken. Advancement in the course will be determined in a large degree by the ability and progress shown at the weekly recitals, and at the more public recitals at the close of each half-term. A record will be kept of the merits of every performance on these occasions, as well as of examinations in theory. Graduation will depend upon these records and upon the character and conduct of the candidate.

The course in Vocal Music required in the Junior Class will be free of charge to students of music as to other students.

In case of unavoidable absence, from sickness or other cause, lessons will be made up, if the teacher is notified beforehand.

Course in Piano.

FIRST YEAR.

SECOND YEAR.

Matthew's Graded Studies, books four, five, and six; Mason's Touch and Technic; Bach; easy preludes; clavier work; ensemble playing; scales and arpeggios; easy sonatas and pieces by Hadyn, Mozart and others; pieces memorized; Mendelssohn; Hadyn; easy pieces by Schumann.

THIRD YEAR.

Matthews' Graded Studies, books seven, eight, and nine; Clementi; studies in Bach; Chopin and Kullak, Schumann; Mendelssohn; Beethoven; sonatas memorized.

Course in Singing.

FIRST YEAR.

Principles of breathing, as applied to tone production and art of vocalization, to be continued through the course according to the requirements of individuals. Ear training; sight reading; tone placing; exercises from Concone; Vaccii; chorus work; easy songs.

SECOND YEAR.

Application of the foregoing work to all needs in the second year. Music in this year will be selected with special regard to the necessity of employing particular points in the voice management. Exercises from Marchesi, and Bordogni; ensemble singing; balads memorized; frequent appearance at the Tuesday evening recitals.

THIRD YEAR.

Study of oratorios; German and Italian songs; advanced technical songs; operatic music; chorus work.

For graduation from this course the first year of the course in piano or the equivalent will be required

Course in Violin.

FIRST YEAR.

Easy exercises and pieces in first position; Weiss' Method; Weiss' easy pieces for violin and piano; work in second and third positions started at close of year.

SECOND YEAR.

THIRD YEAR.

Ferdinand David's advanced method; studies by Mazas; Kreutzer; violin concertos; pieces by De Beriot, Wieniawski; duo and quartet playing.

For a more detailed account of the methods of instruction employed in this department, see under Material and Methods of Instruction.

BUSINESS COURSE.

Elementary Commercial Course.

The subjects of this course are Bookkeeping, Business Correspondence, Drill in Rapid Computation and Invoice Writing, and the Elements of Commercial Law.

Advanced Commercial Course.

This course embraces, in addition to the above subjects, a Business Practice Department, a systematic course in Commercial Law, and Banking.

Stenographic Course.

This course includes Stenography, Typewriting, and Business Correspondence.

[To secure a certificate in any of these courses, the applicant must pass a satisfactory examination in Spelling, Penmanship, Arithmetic, English Composition, American History and Civics.]

MATERIAL AND METHODS OF INSTRUCTION.

The aim of the Normal School is to furnish competent teachers for the public schools of the State. The mental equipment of a teacher consists of (1) knowledge of the subject matter to be taught, (2) knowledge of the laws of mental action, and (3) knowledge of those methods of imparting instruction and of moving the will which are in most complete harmony with the laws of mental action; this last knowledge may be either theoretical or practical. With the successful teacher it is both.

In this school the student receives his knowledge of subject matter in his daily study and recitations; he acquires an elementary knowledge of the laws of mental action by the study of psychology. In order to supply him with a theoretical knowledge of the best method of imparting instruction and of moving the will, we give regular instruction in Methods and School Economy, and History of Education. Finally, to furnish him, as far as possible, with the needed practical skill, we introduce the senior to the work of actual teaching in the Model School.

DEPARTMENT OF PEDAGOGY.

Psychology.

Daily recitations of forty-five minutes each, during the fall and winter terms, are required of the senior class for Psychology.

The aim is to present the fundamental principles of the science in a manner so simple that the student can understand them, and in so practical a light that he may see their application in methods.

History of Education.

Daily recitations of forty-five minutes each, during the spring term, are required of the senior class for the History of Education.

The aim is to acquaint the student with the origin and development of the theories and methods which he has adopted, to awaken in him an interest in the personal history and character of the great educators of the past, and, in general, to give him more intelligence and a deeper interest in matters pertaining to his profession.

The work consists of a study of selections from Seeley's History of Education, and lectures on the History of Education in America.

Logic.

Daily recitations of forty-five minutes each, for one term, are required of the graduate classes for Logic.

The aim is to acquaint the student with the exact use of terms, the classification of propositions, the rules of the syllogism and the different kinds of reasoning.

Moral Science.

Three recitation periods, weekly, of forty-five minutes each, for one term, are required of the graduate classes for Moral Science.

The aim is to study some of the most prominent theories of different philosophers in regard to the standard of ethics, the psychological basis of these theories, and to consider a rational system of practical Ethics.

ANDREW THOMAS SMITH, Instructor.

Teaching.

THEORY.

The general philosophy of methods of teaching is given to the seniors in conjunction with their psychology.

Two recitation periods, weekly, of forty-five minutes each, during the whole year, are required of the Junior class for Methods and School Economy.

The aim is to furnish students who may teach school before entering the senior class, with such an empirical knowledge of methods, and such practical hints in regard to the management of a school, as they are most in need of as a preparation for their work.

PRACTICE.

Teaching in the Model School gives our students an opportunity to put into practice the theory and methods of instruction received in the course of professional work.

Twenty weeks or more of practice work is required of each senior, who does his work under the constant direction of the critic teachers of this department. The student teachers meet with the critic teachers to hear criticisms on their work. Individual criticisms are made and suggestions offered as needed. A single term of this practice will do more for a student teacher than years of schoolroom work without advice or criticism.

Each student teacher is also appointed critic for a definite period of time. A written report of his observations is then handed to the critic teachers for inspection, and whatever is particularly worthy of note, or subject to criticism, is afterward discussed before the class.

The methods, the language, power of securing and holding attention, discipline, manner and teaching power, are noted and errors criticised.

Earnest effort is made to impress the fact that a poor disciplinarian cannot succeed in the schoolroom, and every principle relating to discipline is seriously and carefully discussed. During the year there are senior class exhibitions of teaching, after which each student has an opportunity to make criticisms or ask advice.

DEPARTMENT OF LANGUAGE.

Reading.

A class is organized at the beginning of each term. Selections from McGuffey's fifth and Harper's fifth and sixth readers are assigned for study. Supplementary reading from magazines and newspapers is occasionally employed. We recognize four aims to be kept in view: First, we aim to help the pupil acquire correct articulation enunciation, and pronunciation. This includes careful drill in the elementary sounds of language, in the phonetic analysis of words, and in diacritical marking. Practical work is given in the many uses of the dictionary; e. g. pronunciation, definition, use of gazetteer, biographical and other departments. Second, we aim to give the student power and facility in getting the thought of an author from the written words. We recommend the student to practice reading aloud in his room. This is better than the silent reading for the reason that the student who reads silently forms the habit of partially getting the author's thought without clearly recognizing the meaning of the words. By reading aloud, on the other hand, the inability of the reader to call the words readily, or to understand their meaning, is forced upon his attention. The third aim is to secure an adequate oral expression of the thought and spirit of what is read. Fourth, we seek to inculcate the love of good literature

Elocution.

This course is special and optional with the student.

In the early stages of the work much attention is given to the formation of correct habits of breathing and to the acquirement of a clear, resonant tone-quality that shall be free from throat effort. The department does not aim to give any series of voice gymnastics but merely to correct bad habits and form good ones. Perfect harmony should exist between the thought and the mediums by which it is expressed, viz., voice and gesture, and development in each should go hand in hand. The pupil's power of expression is developed by appealing to his reasoning and imaginative faculties rather than to his powers of imitation. Selections adapted to the pupil's ability are assigned him. He is never forced into trying to portray emotions which he cannot comprehend. Curry's Lessons in Vocal Expression is the text-book used. Supplementary work is obtained from our best speakers and writers. Pupils may take one to two private lessons per week of forty-five minutes each.

Each student in the Senior class must appear twice before the school, once with an original composition and once with a declamation. The subjects for the compositions are chosen from a submitted list. The outline and the completed work are reviewed. We aim to give in this list such subjects as will stimulate thought and will result in the student's individual and clear expression of it. Although the pupil is allowed to choose his own declamation, yet he is advised to select something which shall have some literary value and so receive twofold benefit from committing it to memory. The pupils receive a number of private elocution lessons, without charge, while they are preparing this work for delivery. A certain number of the best are chosen to contest for the gold medals awarded in each department. This contest takes place on Tuesday evening of Commencement week,

MOLLIE TRACY WESTON, Instructor.

Spelling.

Thorough and persistent drill work in spelling is necessary. This necessity is especially evident in a Normal School that draws its students from so many localities where thorough and well directed primary work is as yet unattainable. Though this drill must be persistent, it need not be a "grind" as some seem to think. When accompanied by instruction in the correct pronunciation, meaning, and use of words it becomes a very interesting as well as a profitable method of the study of English. This interest is greatly increased by the introduction of variety into the exercises.

The class receives phonic drill, words are pronounced, syllables and accent noted and difficult or unusual words drilled upon. The lesson of the day is written and misspelled words are corrected, various ways of writing and correcting words may be used. They may be written in lists and marked by pupils, or in sentences dictated by the teacher. The teacher may pronounce the words and pupils write them in original sentences to be corrected either by the class or the teacher. Paragraphs from newspapers and other sources are frequently written from dictation. Frequent exercises in rapid oral spelling will be found helpful.

In addition to the regularly assigned lesson from thirty to fifty words are chosen from books, magazines or newspapers. The teacher uses the more unfamiliar of these in sentences when pronouncing to the class, or the article from which the words are taken may be read. These words are then spelled by the teacher, the pupil checking the words he has misspelled and afterward looking them up in the dictionary or speller and correcting. A word is rarely spelled for the pupil to copy. If he is uncertain of the spelling the act of looking it up will help to fix it in his memory. A little drill is then given on the difficult sounds, the syllabication, accent and meaning of these words so that the pupil may study them intelligently. Stress is laid on the distinct articulation of the word, the pupil is directed to keep in a note book a correct list of the words he misspells. The papers are exchanged and the words corrected between classes, either pupil or teacher spelling them aloud. Papers are returned at the next lesson. Occasionally a lesson is spelled orally.

C. F. PALMER, Instructor.

English Grammar.

A preparatory class in grammar is organized for students that are not sufficiently advanced to enter upon the Junior work in this subject. For the Junior work two classes are organized, requiring one and two terms, respectively, to complete the subject.

English Grammar is both a science and an art. The study of technical grammar, including, as it should, analysis of sentences, construction of words, and the application of principles in parsing, affords the best possible opportunity for the exercise of the reasoning faculties. If correctly presented, the study of grammar is excelled by no other study in affording material for mental discipline.

The study of grammar should be made practical, since ability to speak and write the English language is the end chiefly sought. Careful attention is given to the inflection of nouns, pronouns, adjectives, verbs, and adverbs, the principal parts of irregular verbs, the classification and analysis of sentences, and the correct uses of words in sentences.

One recitation, weekly, is devoted to composition work, including letter writing, uses of capital letters, and, incidentally, the commonest rules of punctuation. Near the close of the term, each student is required to hand in a satisfactory essay upon a subject assigned him by the teacher. Not less than an equivalent of two recitations per week is given to the study of practical grammar.

The text books in use are Maxwell's "Advanced Lessons in English Grammar," and Reed and Kellogg's "Higher Lessons in English." The former book is used for analysis of sentences, classification and inflection of the parts of speech, while the latter is used for composition work and the correction of errors in the use of English.

H. J. VAN NORMAN, Instructor.

Rhetoric and Composition.

The work in Rhetoric and Composition, a term study, covers the following ground:—

1. Punctuation. The important usages not noted in the course in grammar, are considered. Illustrations of these uses are required. Paragraphs for the study of punctuation are assigned, and dictated test work given.

2. Directions for preparing a composition. This is to guide the student in choice of subject, collection of material, preparation of outline, and manuscript,

3. The Paragraph and its Purpose. Examples of isolated and related paragraphs are studied with reference to the topic sentence and the general laws. In this work three kinds of composition are taken: description, narration, exposition.

4. Sentences. The three rhetorical qualities, clearness, force, unity, are considered, likewise the rhetorical classification of sentences, and the force of each variety. Common errors such as the indefinite use of pronoun, squinting construction, the adverb for the adjective, misapplied modifiers, and false concords, are considered somewhat sparsely.

5. Diction. Correctness in choice of words. The value of a good vocabulary, and the means of acquiring it, are discussed.

6. The text book used is Lewis's "First Book in Writing English."

Following the work under Section 2, the constant writing of paragraphs is required, with the aim of training the pupil in the use of clear, forcible, and appropriate English to tell exactly what he thinks.

FANNY L. SHELDON, Instructor.

English Literature.

The work in English Literature, a term study, is chiefly the study of four classics: Merchant of Venice, Silas Marner, Selections from the Sketch Book, Vision of Sir Launfal. These classics are read critically, with reference to their thought, style, and allusions. Reports, original comments, and writings based on these classics are required. In addition to the study of the classics mentioned, the formation of our language through the fusion of the Norman French and Anglo-Saxon is considered and the great periods of development of English Literature, the marked characteristics at certain periods, and some of the representative men in each, are studied.

The English required for admission to the best colleges is offered to college preparatory students.

FANNY L. SHELDON, Instructor.

Beginning German.

The objects to be attained are: (a) A good pronunciation; (b) ability to read simple stories; (c) ability to construct sentences applying the elementary rules of grammar; (d) ability to understand easy German when spoken.

The first year's work covers the following points: The alphabet, method of pronunciation, declension of articles, adjectives, pronouns, and such nouns as are readily classified, comparison of adjectives, conjugation of auxiliary verbs of tense and of mode, of weak, and the more usual strong verbs, the use of the commoner prepositions, the separable and inseparable, passive, reflexive, and impersonal verbs, the elementary rules of syntax, word-order, and word-formation.

The text books are: Joynes-Meissner's Grammar, Brandt's Reader, Hillern's Hoher als die Kirche.

Advanced German.

Continued work in word-formation, word-order, use of the indicative, subjunctive, and infinitive modes, the tenses, participles, prepositions, and conjunctions, and the writing of exercises from Harris's German Composition.

Three classics are read: Wilhelm Tell, Maria Stuart, Hermann und Dorothea. The aim of the course is to acquire proficiency in more advanced German grammar and to translate ordinary German. Translation at sight and hearing is used throughout each course.

FANNY L. SHELDON, Instructor.

Latin.

The objects sought in the work in Latin are: 1. Ability to pronounce correctly and read intelligently the Latin text. 2. Mastery of inflection, so that number, person, case, mood and tense can be instantly recognized. 3. A working vocabulary. 4. Mastery of the Latin sentence and the ordinary principles of Latin syntax. 5. Translation into idiomatic English.

JUNIOR YEAR.

Five recitation periods of forty-five minutes each, weekly, during two terms, required of Juniors.

Outline of work: Roman method of pronunciation, declension of nouns, pronouns and adjectives, comparison of adjectives and adverbs, conjugation of regular verbs, and of "sum," knowledge of the principal rules of syntax gained by writing the exercises in Collar and Daniel's "First Latin Book."

SENIOR YEAR.

Five recitation periods of forty-five minutes each, weekly, during the year, required of Seniors.

Outline of work: Review of First Latin Book. Translation of the "Helvetian War," (Commentaries, Book 1, chapters 1-29). Syntax of nouns, pronouns, adjectives and verbs completed, conjugation of irregular verbs, word formation, the life of Cæsar, the Roman legion, geography of Gaul.

GRADUATE COURSE.

Cæsar's Commentaries; books 1 (chapters 29 to 54), 2, 3, 4. Five recitation periods, weekly, during the fall term and first half of the winter term.

Supplementary reading on the life and character of Cæsar and the Roman art of war, is required. Constant use is made of the map.

Cicero's Orations; Catiline, 1, 2, 3, 4, Archias Manilian Law. Five recitation periods, weekly, during the spring term and fall and winter terms of the following year. Supplementary reading on the life and times of Cicero, Roman Oratory, and the Roman Forum is required.

Latin Composition; Bennett's Latin Composition complete. Five recitation periods, weekly, during the spring term.

Virgil's Æneid; six books. Recitations during the entire year. Virgil's life and his position as a poet; epic poetry; poetic constructions, figures of speech, prosody, mythological and historical references, geography of the Æneid.

Greek.

The objects sought are similar to those in Latin.

Greek lessons; White's "First Greek Book." Five recitation periods, weekly, during the fall and winter terms.

Anabasis; four books. Five recitation periods, weekly, during the spring term, and the fall and first half of the winter term of the following year.

Supplementary reading on the life of Xenophon, history of the period and Greek art of war is required, also a map tracing the route of the ten thousand.

Greek Composition; the last forty lessons of White's "Beginner's Greek Book." Two recitation periods, weekly, during the last half of the winter term and the spring term.

Iliad; three books (omitting in book 2 line 484 to the end). Study of the language of the poem, Homeric syntax, the epic hexameter, mythology, figures of speech. Three recitation periods, weekly, during last half of winter term and spring term.

DEPARTMENT OF MATHEMATICS.

Arithmetic.

In arithmetic three classes are formed, requiring one, two, and three terms, respectively, to complete the subject. The most advanced class begins at ratio, the second class, at percentage, and the third class, at fractions.

Special attention is given to some parts of the arithmetic; for example, fractions, denominate numbers, measurements, longitude and time, pure percentage and its various applications of profit and loss, commission, interest, discount and taxes. On the other hand there are some parts of the arithmetic which are seldom or never used after leaving school, as equation of payments, averaging accounts, savings bank accounts, alligation, annuities, circulating decimals, and arbitration of exchange, which are omitted altogether.

Every intelligent person admits the superiority of mental arithmetic over written problems as a means of cultivating the memory, increasing the power of attention, and strengthening the faculty for concentration of thought. Hence it has been thought best to devote the equivalent of two recitations per week to the solution of mental problems.

In recitation, each topic under discussion is developed by a direct appeal to the reason without reference to any formal rule, while the rule is made use of only as a general deduction drawn from the solution of concrete examples.

H. J. VAN NORMAN, Instructor.

Elementary Algebra.

The junior course requires elementary algebra complete. All principles are demonstrated and fully discussed. Special attention is given to the following subjects: factoring, the solution of simple and quadratic equations, the binomial theorem, square and cube root, progressions, and proportion.

Higher Algebra.

Higher algebra is required in the Scientific Course and in the Regular Normal Course. Daily recitations for two terms of fourteen weeks each are given to this subject.

Plane Geometry.

Plane geometry is a senior study, and two terms of fourteen weeks each are required to complete it. The classes have a recitation period of forty-five minutes each, daily. Special attention is given to the demonstration of original propositions, and the solution of problems.

Solid Geometry.

Plane Trigonometry and Surveying.

Many practical problems involving trigonometrical functions are solved. Demonstrations of the formulæ are required. The classes are given a drill in the applications of plane trigonometry to surveying. The transit and other necessary instruments are explained. Surveys are mapped and areas computed.

J. P. BREIDINGER, Instructor.

DEPARTMENT OF PHYSICAL SCIENCE.

The course of study in physical science has for its aim:

1st. To lead the student to acquire the power and habit of accurate observation of the facts of nature and the ability to draw from these facts legitimate inferences as to their causes and relations.

2d To afford training in the expression, oral and written, of the student's conclusions in clear and forcible language.

3d. To relate everything, as far as possible, to the student's former and present experience.

4th. To make the work as elementary as may be, with a view to the student's use of it in teaching.

Geography—Descriptive and Physical.

The particular aim in view in the study of descriptive geography, is to fix in the mind such knowledge as the student may already have and as far as possible, relate such knowledge to his every-day experiences.

The topical method is used in teaching, and the following summary of topics may indicate the ground covered:

1. The form, size, and motions of the earth.
2. Directions, positions, and measurements.
3. Land masses, continental and insular, with their groupings.
4. Oceanic and inland waters.
5. Political divisions—comparisons with United States.
6. Routes of commerce, communication, and travel.
7. A more thorough and complete study is made of the United States.

Physical geography is restricted to the physical features of the earth, and the animals and plants which live upon its surface.

ELIZA J. BOYCE, Instructor.

Agriculture and Nature Study.

This course of instruction has been adopted for its obvious utility, especially to students who come, as so many of our students do come, from farming districts. By the adoption of this course, the authorities of the school have shown their recognition of the growing interest and increasing estimation of the value of good farming to the community and the country at large, and of the attractions of a life in the country.

It is believed that when the young men and women are properly educated in these matters, higher estimation of the blessings of country life will stop the present unfortunate tendency to desert the farm and crowd the cities. It seems especially appropriate to a Normal school, where so many teachers of the country districts receive the best of their education. Whatever knowledge and inspiration is imparted here will be at once disseminated by the agencies of the district schools.

The studies of this course, with the exception of nature study, are not required, as yet, for graduation. It will be wholly optional with every student whether he take all the subjects laid down in the course, or a part of them, or none. The value of the work will be explained, and all, especially those who are expecting to teach in country districts, will be urged to pursue it.

The instruction will be imparted by the use of Bailey's "Principles of Agriculture," as a text-book, supplemented by lectures. Considerable attention is also given to the collateral work given at the end of each chapter of the text-book.

In the course in nature study which will, of course, be most universally attractive and useful, the work will be very largely of the nature of field work, each class taking one trip a week with the instructor.

Nature study, to quote Professor L. H. Bailey, a high authority on this subject, is "Seeing the things which one looks at and the drawing of proper conclusions from what one sees. Nature study is not the study of a science, as of botany, entomology, geology, and the like. That is, it takes the things at hand and endeavors to understand them, without reference to the systematic order or relationship of the objects. It is wholly informal and unsystematic, the same as the objects are which one sees. It is entirely divorced from definitions or from explanations in books. It is therefore supremely natural. It simply trains the eye and the mind to see and to comprehend the common things of life; and the result is not directly the acquirement of science but the establishment of a living sympathy with everything that is."

C. F. PALMER, Instructor.

Physiology and Hygiene.

Five recitations per week for one term are required.

A finely mounted skeleton, complete, and a valuable manikin from the best French manufactory, have been furnished to the school. "Martin's Human Body," elementary course, is the text-book used. The work includes the study of bones, articulations, muscles, the vascular, respiratory, digestive, and nervous systems, elimination, animal heat, and the special senses. In the consideration of each of these subjects special attention is given to the hygiene of the body. The effects of alcohol and tobacco are noted. Of alcohol, the effect on the digestive, respiratory, vascular and nervous systems; its interference with proper oxidation and elimination. Of tobacco, the effect on the throat, digestion, circulation, the nervous system, and the special senses. Special attention is called to the narcotic effects of both alcohol and tobacco on the brain and through it on the will and the moral character of the individual. The fact is emphasized that the delicate tissues and organs of the child and youth are especially sensitive to the influence of stimulants and narcotics, and therefore sure to be injured by their use. The aim is to make the course popular, practical, and plain.

Special physiology is given seniors in lectures on physical culture.

C. F. PALMER, Instructor.

Physics.

The students of the senior class study physics during two terms of the year. The course consists of a series of experiments from Gage's "Introduction to Physical Science," selected with reference to ease of comprehension, and to illustrating the main principles and practical applications of the science.

These experiments are performed by the teacher and questions asked which lead the student to observe closely the conditions and results from which he is expected to draw his own inferences and state them in his own language. The student is expected to be familiar with the text, and questions and problems are given to test his knowledge.

Supplementing this work is a laboratory course. For this purpose the sections of the class numbering about thirty persons each are subdivided into groups of four members each with a student assistant to supervise each group. This method affords close personal supervision of the work and also teaching practice for a considerable number of the class. The work is made strictly individual, no two persons being allowed to perform an experiment together. Each student is required to write in his note book a complete description of every experiment, illustrating each with a drawing.

The work of physics in the advanced course is along the same line but more extended, and the student performs most of the experiments for himself.

I. M. GAYMAN, Instructor.

Botany.

Botany is studied by the junior class during the fall and spring terms, about half of the time being devoted to the study of the text-book and the remainder to practical work.

A well-lighted room has been furnished with tables and instruments to serve as a botanical laboratory. The class is divided into sections sufficiently small to provide each student with a microscope and afford opportunity for personal supervision and suggestions from the instructor. The practical work with microscope includes the examination of seeds as to their structure, reserve materials, protection and means of dispersal; roots as to their nature, form and means of absorption; buds, as to structure, nature of parts, protection and growth; leaves, as to venation, form and uses; flowers, showing that their parts are stems and leaves metamorphosed to serve particular functions. While dissecting seeds the student is instructed to plant a window garden with seeds similar to the ones examined and study their mode of germination and growth. He is required to keep a complete record of all observations and conclusions, and to illustrate all essential points by drawings.

Each student prepares an herbarium of as many representative plants as time will allow, and thus provides himself with means for finding the names of unfamiliar specimens.

The aim of the course is to lead the student to see that the plant is a living organism, that the law of "the survival of the fittest" applies, and that the plant able best to protect itself, to adapt itself to conditions of climate and soil, surpasses its neighbor in the struggle for life.

I. M. GAYMAN,
C. F. PALMER,

Instructors.

Zoology (Including Entomology.)

The scientific class study zoology one term. The method is, so far as practicable, to study from observation. Animals and insects representing different types are carefully studied also their characteristics and classification, and lists made by the student of those with which he is familiar, putting each in its proper place in the classification.

The course, in entomology includes a study of insects as to morphology, development and metamorphosis in the living specimens. The following points are also touched upon; the doctrine of evolution and the criteria by which we judge the animal's rank; the theory of instinct; the voluntary and automatic movements; the principal organs with their functions, adaptations, correlations, and analogies.

C. F. PALMER, Instructor.

Geology.

The students of the scientific course give one term to the study of geology. For this study the school is well equipped. Our cabinet contains a fine collection arranged to illustrate lithology and historical geology. Besides, the surrounding region is almost ideal for excursions to examine the structure and arrangement of rocks and to collect specimens for private cabinets. The effect of frost in aiding to disintegrate rocks, of rivers in eroding their banks and depositing detritus and silt, and of erosion during the glacial period, are well illustrated by the rocks, streams, and hills in this section, and are visited, examined and discussed by the students.

I. M. GAYMAN, Instructor.

Chemistry.

One term is spent by students of the scientific and post graduate courses in the study of chemistry, the first half being devoted to chemical theory and the more common elements with their properties and symbols, and the equations representing their reactions. A sufficient number of selected experiments are performed by the teacher to illustrate the text. The latter half of the term is spent in individual work. The student performs a list of experiments recommended by the committee of ten for secondary schools, and writes a description of these, together with the equations representing the chemical reactions, in his note books.

Frequent quizzes and examinations are held to test his ability and accuracy.

C. F. PALMER, Instructor.

Astronomy.

One term is spent by students of scientific and post graduate courses in the study of astronomy.

The student is expected to acquire a correct notion as to the simpler methods and results of astronomical research. He acquaints himself with the facts as given in the text book and verifies them as far as possible, observing the heavens, noting the positions and movements of the planets, and brighter stars, and tracing the principal constellations. The uses of the telescope and spectroscope are explained and illustrated.

The more important statistics are learned, the theories to account for the origin and structure of the universe, and the laws of planetary and cometary motions.

I. M. GAYMAN, Instructor.

DEPARTMENT OF HISTORY AND CIVIL GOVERNMENT.

The work of this department gains importance from the fact that a knowledge of our history and institutions is considered a necessary precedent to intelligent American citizenship.

American History.

In American history, five recitation periods of forty-five minutes each, weekly, for twenty-one weeks, are required of the junior class.

The objects sought are: (a) A knowledge of the leading facts in the political; social, and industrial history of this country; (b) to show the relation to one another of events and movements, from the standpoint of cause and effect; (c) to create a desire for further historical study; (d) to teach patriotism.

Events are associated in their time and place relations, also by their relation to great historical characters. Biography is made prominent. Attention is given to the related facts in English history.

Reading from historical fiction, debates, map-drawings, and historical objects are employed as aids in the study of this branch.

The subject is taken up in the following natural order: Explorations, colonizations, inter-colonial wars, the revolution, Presidential administrations, civil war, events of later history.

Civil Government.

Five recitation periods, weekly, of forty-five minutes each, for a half-term (seven weeks), are required of the junior class for civics. The subject is taken up as a supplement to United States history.

The course attempts a thorough analysis of the constitution of the United States, a comparison between the National government and the governments of the states, and of foreign countries, and a discussion of the principles of government, and of the reasons for the provisions of the constitution, and of the current events relating to civics.

General History.

Five recitation periods, weekly, for one term, are required of seniors.

The aim of the course is to give a general knowledge of the history of Greece up to the time of its final conquest by the Romans; a clear understanding of the conditions leading to the establishment of the Empire of Alexander the Great, and its influence upon succeeding history; a knowledge of the history of Rome up to the time of the fall of the Empire in the West; the movements of barbarian tribes, and the beginnings of modern European nations; the period of Charlemagne; and an outline of prominent facts in English history.

FRANCIS CHAPMAN, Instructor.

DEPARTMENT OF GYMNASTICS.

The system taught is the Swedish gymnastics. All students who complete a course for graduation are required to take regular lessons, for at least five terms, during the junior and senior years, unless excused on account of some organic disease. Gymnastic work is primarily for the weak, not for those already strong. The object is health rather than great muscular development.

Although the work is done in classes, special attention is paid to individual weaknesses. Students are requested to speak freely with the teacher concerning themselves that all may receive benefit and none injury from the work.

Gymnastics has its place in the school curriculum, not only for the improvement and maintenance of the health of the pupils, but also for its distinctive educational effects. The equal development of the cerebral hemispheres, the cultivation of concentrated attention, and of volition and courage, are possible to the teacher of educational gymnastics.

Each day's exercises will consist of introductions, arch flexions, heaving (hanging) movements, balance movements, shoulder blade movements, marching and running, abdominal exercises, lateral trunk movements, slow-leg movements, jumping and vaulting, respiratory exercises.

In addition to the practical work in the gymnasium, both seniors and juniors are instructed in the theory and method of gymnastics. Also teaching of gymnastics in the model school is required of seniors under the supervision of the teacher of gymnastics.

All pupils will be obliged to wear clothing suitable for the gymnasium—divided skirt and loose blouse for the ladies, and a negligee shirt for the men, and rubber soled shoes for all.

EDITH A. LOWNSBERRY, Instructor.

Penmanship.

The time required of the preparatory class for penmanship is not specified. A definite amount of work must be accomplished.

The classes observe the following:

1. Suitable and healthful position of body.
2. A proper method of pen-holding.
3. A movement regular, and as free as is consistent with good form.
4. A neat and business-like arrangement of the matter written.

Due attention is given to proportions, classifications, analysis of letters, etc., and special drill lessons are given in movements and methods of teaching.

The vertical system of penmanship has been introduced.

HANNAH T. JENKINS, Instructor.

Bookkeeping.

It is our purpose to give the student such an understanding of the general principles of double entry bookkeeping as to enable him to make a practical use of the same in actual business transactions. The following course of study is followed:

1. A clear and definite idea of such terms as a business transaction, an account, debtor, creditor, resources, liabilities, net capital, net insolvency.

2. To be able to explain the use of a day-book, ledger, cash-book, order-book, sales-book, bill-book, check-book, and to readily and correctly record business transactions in these books.

3. To open and close an account.

4. To write and explain the use of all ordinary commercial paper, as orders, receipts, checks, drafts,—commercial and bank, sight and time notes—negotiable and non-negotiable, and indorsements of same, statement of accounts, bill of goods.

For the first several lessons the student is required to rule his own books from plain paper. Each student is required to hand in a complete set of books written from exercises dictated by the teacher.

Exercises will also be given in business letter writing: (a) Ordering a bill of goods; (b) inclosing payment on account; (c) acknowledging the receipt of payment on or in full of account.

JOHN H. LONG, Instructor.

Drawing.

Five periods, weekly, of forty-five minutes each, for two terms, are required of the junior class in drawing.

The Prang system is taught. A plan of work for all grades is given and practiced. This plan includes the preliminary work of tablet and stick-laying, paper folding and cutting, and clay modeling; also representation, decoration, and construction.

Representation is the drawing of the type solids and of objects based on them, of natural leaves and flowers, and of costumed life.

Decoration includes the drawing of simple units of design, arranged in borders, rosettes, and surface coverings, copying of historic ornament and decorative designs, and of elementary work in original design. Three mediums are used for this work, lead pencil, pen and ink, and water color.

Construction consists of working drawings of the type solids and of simple objects, of patterns of the solids and of the solids truncated, and of drawings in perspective of points, lines, planes and their applications, as represented in the drawings of railroads, floors, houses, etc. The preliminary work in construction is done free-hand, followed by exact work with the instruments.

Simultaneous with the work in form is the work in color. This consists in the acquiring of a knowledge of, and in the use of the six principal colors and their intermediates, in five tones of each. The Prang assortment of colored papers is used in this work.

Graduating Course in Art.

A special course in art has been arranged requiring three years' systematic study of two lessons per week of forty-five minutes each, or of two years' work of three lessons per week of forty-five minutes each.

A diploma is awarded to the students who complete this course. Students are required to take a thorough course in drawing before they are allowed to do any work in color. They are encouraged to become self reliant by doing as much as possible for themselves.

Students may enter at any time and take such of the following branches of art as they may choose: Drawing from the antique, painting from the flat and still life in oil and water colors, and sketching in pen and ink.

The school is well equipped with easels, drawing boards, a fine assortment of casts from the antique and of studies for oil and water colors.

HANNAH T. JENKINS, Instructor.

Music.

The students are required to pass a satisfactory examination in the elementary principles of vocal music.

A complete knowledge of all scales, keys, signatures, clefs, different kinds of measures, notes, rests, etc., is required. Much attention is given to ear training, writing intervals, singing intervals that are called for, and to the ability to be true hearers of music.

Easy children's songs, college songs, and some sacred songs are taught.

GRADUATING COURSE IN MUSIC.

Vocal.

The method employed in the instruction in vocal music, is a combination of the Italian and German methods. Particular attention is given to tone placing, correct breathing, true intonation, clear enunciation, and general artistic song rendering.

The pupils are encouraged to give a certain portion of their time to reading musical literature. The object of the course is to awaken a desire for accurate musical ability and an inspiration that will lead them to further advancement.

Pupils beginning vocal music are advised to arrange their time so as to take four or five short vocal lessons a week in place of one or two long lessons, as time spent alone is liable to be in some degree wasted.

When two students request it, lessons will be given them together as a class. This method has some advantages besides being less expensive. Each pupil receives individual attention one-half of the time, and has the opportunity of hearing the corrections or suggestions made to the other pupil. This is of value to the pupil who intends to teach as in this way, he learns to correct errors other than his own.

Piano.

The method employed in the piano department is a combined form of the Virgil Clavier School, Mason's Touch and Technic, and Matthew's Graded Studies for the Piano. By the use of this method, the correct hand position on the keyboard is acquired, a good technic developed, rapid sight reading is attained, true musical feeling cultivated, and a foundation laid for a general musical education. The advanced pupils are carefully instructed in the work of the best composers, many of which works they are required to memorize. Since the aim of the music department is to prepare pupils for some public work, aside from mere teaching, all students are required to appear often at the weekly recitals. No pupil is allowed to graduate and receive the school's certificate unless competent to give a satisfactory recital in public.

Violin.

The method employed in violin instruction is a combination of French and German methods. Particular attention is given to an easy, correct hand position on the violin, a flexible, loose bowing as applied to both the wrist and arm, perfect intonation, breadth of tone and style, and general finish. The works of the best composers are studied and memorized with a view toward acquiring a good technic and true musical playing. Opportunities are given for ensemble playing, such as duo, trio, quartette, and obligato work.

RICHARD WELTON,
RUTH M. FISKE,
MABEL EVANS,
Instructors.

DEPARTMENT OF BUSINESS.

In this department the student is brought into touch with the actual business forms just as fast as his progress in the subject will justify. He is prepared, as in the best Business Colleges, for office or counting house.

In the stenographic department the Graham system of stenography is used; and in Typewriting, students are made familiar with the standard instruments and are required to attain a rate of speed demanded of graduates in the best schools of Typewriting.

FINAL EXAMINATIONS AND DIPLOMAS.

Rules for admission to the Junior and Senior classes in the Elementary course.

1. Admission to the Senior and Junior classes shall be determined by the State Board of Examiners at the annual examination by the Board.

2. In order to be admitted to the Junior class at any State Normal School, persons must be examined in the six preparatory branches named and no others; and the examinations in these branches shall be final. Those who for any reason were unable to complete the Preparatory examination, may be admitted to both the Preparatory and the Junior examinations at the end of the Junior year. But they must be classed as Preparatory students till the final examination in the Preparatory branches has been completed. No substitutions or conditions shall be allowed for any of the studies required for admission to the Junior class.

3. In order to be admitted to the Senior class, persons must be examined in all the Junior studies, except Methods, and the examination in these branches shall be final. No substitutions or conditions shall be allowed for any of the studies required for admission to the Senior class.

4. If the faculty of any State Normal School, or the Board of Examiners, decide that a person is not prepared to pass an examination by the State Board, he shall not be admitted to the same examination at any other State Normal School during the same school year.

5. If a person who has completed the Preparatory or the Juniors studies at any State Normal School desires to enter another State Normal School, the Principal of the school at which the examination was held shall send the proper certificate to the Principal of the school which the person desires to attend. Except for the reason here stated, no certificate setting forth the fact of the passing of the Preparatory or the Junior studies shall be issued.

6. Candidates for graduation shall be examined in all the branches of the Senior year. They shall have the opportunity of being examined in any of the higher branches, including vocal and instrumental music and double entry bookkeeping; and all studies completed by them shall be named in their certificate.

7. Persons who have been graduated in any course may be examined at any State examination in any branches of a higher course, and the Secretary of the Board of Examiners shall certify, on the back of their diplomas, to the passing of the branches completed at said examination.

8. A certificate setting forth the proficiency of all the applicants in all the studies in which they desire to be examined by the State Board of Examiners, shall be prepared and signed by the faculty and presented to the Board.

Rules relating to Certificates and Degrees:

1. Students who have completed any one of the foregoing courses shall receive a certificate or diploma authorizing them to teach in the public schools of the State two years without examination.

2. Persons who have completed any one of the foregoing courses and have taught two full annual school terms since graduation, shall receive a certificate or diploma, authorizing them to teach in the public schools of Pennsylvania without further examination, provided that they present to the faculty and Board of Examiners a certificate of good moral character and skill in the art of teaching from the Board, or Boards of Directors, by whom they were employed, countersigned by the proper Superintendent.

3. Degrees shall be conferred as follows:

To graduates in the Regular Normal Course, the degree of Bachelor of Elementary Pedagogics (B. E. P.); after two years' successful teaching, the degree of Master of Elementary Pedagogics (M. E. P.)

To graduates in the Scientific Course, the degree of Bachelor of Science (B. S.); after two years' successful teaching, the degree of Master of Elementary Pedagogics (M. E. P.). Graduates of the Scientific Course who have engaged in scientific, literary or professional pursuits, at least three years after graduation, may receive the degree of Master of Science (M. S.)

To graduates in the Advanced Normal Course, the degree of Bachelor of Pedagogics (B. P.); after two years' successful teaching after completing this course or in the Scientific Course, the degree of Master of Pedagogics (M. P.)

The first payment ($40 for boarding students and $10 for day students) is to be made on the first day of the term; the remainder of the term amount, at the middle of the term.

In all private work students will be charged for lessons that they lose through temporary absence, excepting such as is due to illness. They will, however, be given an opportunity to make up lost lessons whenever the teacher's time will admit of it.

Deduction will be made to students absent from school two consecutive weeks or more on account of sickness or for other satisfactory reasons. No deduction will be made to students entering within the first two weeks, or leaving within the last two weeks, of a term. For the special term for teachers, beginning April 30, students will be charged according to the above rates for the time they are actually in attendance. All bills must be settled with the Treasurer.

By an act of the legislature, the following appropriations are made by the State to Normal students and Normal graduates :

1. Each student over 17 years of age, who shall sign a paper declaring his intention to teach in the common schools of the State, shall receive fifty cents a week. Any student to secure this benefit must attend the school at least twelve consecutive weeks, and he must receive regular instruction in the science and art of teaching in a special class devoted to that object for the whole time such an allowance is drawn.

2. Each student who, upon graduation, shall sign an agreement to teach in the common schools of the State two full school years, shall receive the sum of fifty dollars.

In case of a deficiency in the amount appropriated by the Legislature for the State aid for students, each student will receive his proportionate share of the appropriation.

(Since the fund, at the disposal of the Department of Education, for State aid to students, is now exhausted, the matter of State aid for 1900-1901 must be determined by the next Legislature. It is now hoped that the Legislature will come to the aid of students in this respect, and, if so, the full allowance will be made.

Gentlemen's rooms are furnished with heat, light, dressing case with mirror, chairs, tables, stands, pails, bedsteads, mattresses, pillows, and one comfortable.

Ladies' rooms are furnished with heat, light, carpet, two rockers, chairs, tables, and bedroom set complete, pillows and one comfortable. Mirror on dressing case.

Students furnish wash-bowls and pitchers, napkins, towels, pillow-slips, sheets and one comfortable. The last article enumerated, together with all articles to be laundered, should be distinctly marked with full name.

Students have the privilege of renting text-books at a nominal rate.

For two days at the opening and two days at the close of each term, students' baggage is carried to and from the railway station free of charge.

Students who do not live at home with parents or guardians, will be under the authority of the school the same as boarders are, and will not be permitted to board outside the building, except by special arrangement with the Principal.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Library and Reading Room,

A good circulating library, catalogued after the most modern and approved plan, is open daily to all students free of charge. Over two hundred volumes, carefully chosen by the teachers in the several departments, have this year been added to this library. All students have access at any time to a large and well selected reference library.

A reading room, supplied with the leading magazines and daily and weekly papers, is opened at stated hours every day of the week.

Extensive improvements are now in progress whereby all the library and reading room facilities will be centered in one large room. This will afford a light and airy place for reading, with easy access to all reference books and other helps in the possession of the school.

The Association elects officers on the first Friday of each term.

Apparatus and Cabinet.

Literary Societies.

There are six literary societies: The Athenæan, Normal Literary, Philalethean, Agonian, Delphic, and Clionian.

The Athenæan and Normal Literary Societies are composed of both men and women. They have finely furnished rooms and good libraries. The Philalethean society is composed of men, and is a chapter of the Philalethean fraternity. The Agonian society is composed of women and is a chapter of the Agonian fraternity. The Delphic society is composed of men, and is a chapter of the Delphic fraternity. The Clionian society is composed of women and is a chapter of the Clionian fraternity.

Lectures and Entertainments.

Lecture courses of a high order of excellence are maintained by the school. Many scientific and popular lectures are given with the aid of the stereopticon. Frequent literary and musical entertainments are given by the Music Department, and by the literary societies.

The Alumni Association.

This is an organization of the graduates of the school from all the courses.

The Association holds an annual business meeting on Wednesday morning of commencement week. The annual banquet of the Association is given by the school on Wednesday afternoon, in the dining hall, which will accommodate five hundred guests, and the annual literary exercises of the Association are held in Alumni Hall Wednesday evening.

A list of the officers and members of the Association is printed in the back part of this catalogue.

Religious Associations.

The Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. have organizations of the students which maintain weekly religious meetings.

Athletic Association.

The Mansfield Normal School Quarterly.

The Mansfield Normal School Quarterly was started three years ago. The first number of Vol. IV will be issued after the commencement of 1900. The Quarterly is beautifully printed and finely illustrated. Its aim is to supply the alumni, undergraduates, and other friends of the school with intelligence of the news, the progress, and the improvements made in the school.

Special Term for Teachers.

To accommodate many teachers who desire to enter school in the spring, a special term and programme will be arranged to begin April 30, 1901. Much attention will be given during the special term to school management and methods of teaching.

Prizes and Honors.

For excellence in scholarship, during the year 1900-1901, four prizes are offered as follows:

1. A prize of $25 for the highest average standing in all the subjects of the Senior year in the Elementary course, limited to under graduates.
2. A prize of $10 for the second highest average standing in all the subjects of the Senior year in the Elementary course, limited to under graduates.
3. A prize of $25 for the highest average standing in all the subjects of the Junior class in the Elementary course.
4. A prize of $10 for the second highest average standing in all the subjects of the Junior class in the Elementary course.

LOCATION, BUILDINGS AND GROUNDS.

The Normal School buildings present a noble and imposing aspect. The school grounds have an area of ten acres. The lawns about the buildings are beautifully laid out and covered with a great variety of forest trees.

South Hall.

This is a brick structure, one hundred fifty feet in length by fifty feet in width. In this building are the men's dormitories, the circulating library, reading room and reference library, chapel, six recitation rooms, and the text-book library. This building, formerly the old seminary, was enlarged and remodeled in 1889. One hundred fifty feet North, and the same distance East, of South Hall, stands the North Hall.

This building is in process of complete reconstruction. The cut represents it as it will be, when finished, one of the finest school buildings in the country. It is two hundred seventy feet long by one hundred feet wide, and five stories high. It contains the Principal's office, dormi-atories for the women, reception rooms, suits of rooms for the Art and Music departments, an elegant dining room large enough to seat five hundred, an elevator, the kitchen, bakery, etc. Two stories of an ell, completely removed from the other rooms, are set apart as an infirmary. They are furnished with every appliance for the sick. The dormitories on every floor of both buildings are supplied with bath tubs and everything needed for health and comfort. All the buildings are heated by steam, lighted by electricity, and supplied with fire escapes of the best construction. The cost of the North building when completed and furnished, will not be less than $150,000. Midway between the North and the South building is

Alumni Hall.

This is a brick building, fifty-four by one hundred seventeen feet, three stories high. It contains the Model school rooms, recitation rooms, the society rooms, and a concert hall which occupies one entire story. This building was completed in 1886 at a cost of $25,000. In the rear of the South building stands the Gymnasium.

This is a fine structure ; it is a frame building, fifty by one hundred thirty feet. It contains a large drill hall, fifty by one hundred feet, and four spacious rooms adjoining, used for dressing rooms, etc. The drill hall is well furnished with apparatus. This building was erected in 1888 at a cost of $7,000.

HOW TO REACH MANSFIELD.

Mansfield is thirty-six miles from Elmira via the Erie railroad; twenty-seven miles from Corning via Pennsylvania Division of the New York Central and Erie railroads; twenty-three miles from Wellsboro via Pennsylvania Division of the New York Central railroad from Wellsboro to Lawrenceville, and thence via Erie railroad, or twelve miles from Wellsboro by stage; sixteen miles from Troy, on the Northern Central railroad, by stage; and ten miles from Blossburg via Erie railroad.

Students coming via Northern Central railroad may take stage at Roaring Branch for Blossburg, thence to Mansfield by railroad, or take stage at Troy direct to Mansfield, or keep the railroad via Elmira. Passengers from the East, by the Erie, change cars at Elmira; by the Lehigh Valley, change at Waverly, thence to Elmira by the Erie; by the D., L. & W., change at Elmira, thence by the Erie to Mansfield. Students coming from the West on the Erie or D., L. & W. railroads, change cars at Elmira. Students coming from the West and South by the Pennsylvania Division of the New York Central railroad, change at Tioga or Lawrenceville.

All baggage should be distinctly marked with the name of the owner, and "STATE NORMAL SCHOOL," to insure its being brought to the Normal buildings. Whenever baggage is to be taken to the station, it should be marked with the name and destination of the owner.
